THIRTY-FOUR PERISH IN LONG BEACH DISASTER.

Catastrophe.

SEASIDE CITY'S DAY OF JOY IS TURNED TO ONE OF HORROR IN TWINKLING OF AN EYE.

Upper Deck of Great Municipal Auditorium Collapses Under Victorian Anniversary Throng of Merrymakers, Hurling One Hundred and Seventy Five Persons Into Splintered Abyss of Wriggly Death While Shocked Thousands Watch.

Scene of joy and pleasure turned to gigantic morgue.

Above is the shoreward view of the Long Beach Auditorium, locus of yesterday's disaster, showing the roped-off thousands who gazed against the police barriers to witness the taking out of the bodies from the morgue improvised in the building. The wagons shown are those of four undertaking establishments. Below is a view of the pit of death where 175 persons plunged down in a ghastly funnel of splintered timbers when a portion of the upper deck of the pier gave way at the entrance to the great hall.

INVESTIGATION BY THE GRAND JURY DEMANDED.

Mayor and Council Appoint Committee to Look Into Every Phase and Report Promptly — Public Works Chairman Says Rotten Condition of the Broken Girder Was Not Apparent from Superficial Examination.

THE EMPIRE DAY Celebration Committee issued the following statement last night:

F. S. Craig, chairman of the Long Beach Board of Public Works: "It seems to us, however, after doing its utmost to relieve the injured and attending to the immediate needs of the stricken ones, the Empire Day Celebration Committee hastily called a meeting and declared all further exercises off. The committee wishes to express its deepest sympathy with the bereaved and injured. Horrified at the terrible catastrophe that brought to disastrous conclusion our first celebration, we demand, in the name of humanity, that a thorough investigation be made and that justice be done. We hope that it belongs to us further hope that the grand jury will take immediate steps in the matter."

The committee wished to express its heartfelt thanks to the general public for the prompt and splendid aid given in the face of a terrible calamity. There was no panic and this made it possible for the rescuers to work unhampered. [Signed]

D. W. YOUNG, Chairman
S. H. FISHER, Secretary

EXPERT BLAMES WEAK GIRDER.

*Timber of Half the Proper Size
Horror's Cause, Says
Backus.*

The verdict of a party of architects and building experts who viewed the pit of death as soon as it was cleared yesterday was unanimous in fixing the blame upon the faulty construction of the supports of the upper deck leading to the Auditorium. A 4x12 girder, made of two 2x12 pieces face to face, one partly rotten, broke in the middle, letting the joists which rested upon it fall. Of this girder Chief Building Inspector Backus of Los Angeles said:

"In the first place the girder should have been twice that size. It should never have been set in a shallow mortise in the face of the upright, but placed squarely on top of it. It should have been at least as large as the post itself."

"Further, from the general appearance of the joists which remain in position, it looks as though these must have been in a weakened condition as the result of turning slightly on their horizontal axis. The building in general is badly put together."

Benefit Ball Postponed. The elaborate benefit ball which was to have been given at Kramer's last evening by members of the Prince Edward Guards and Daughters of the Empire was postponed until next Saturday night on account of the tragedy at Long Beach. Half of the proceeds will go to the relief fund.

PRINCESS LUISE A BRIDE; THREE RULERS KISS HER.

A Precedent of Splendor and Glory Is Set in the Kaiser's Palace.

Concentrated Power the Dominant Note of a Wedding in Berlin that Brings Together an Array of Nobles More Imposing Than Any Ever Before Assembled. Tidings of Nuptials Heralded by Roar of Cannon.

(BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES) BERLIN, May 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Concentrated power was the keynote that characterized today the marriage of Princess Victoria Louise, Adelheid, Mathilde, Charlotte, only daughter of the Kaiser, to Prince Ernest Augustus of Cumberland, scion of the House of Guelph who may become Duke of Brunswick and Lüneburg. The wedding was unique in these points:

It was witnessed by Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany, King George V of England and Czar Nicholas II of Russia, standing in a group with the Kaiser and Queen near by—perhaps the most notable gathering of royalty that Europe has seen in a generation.

A LOVE MATCH.

By all accounts it was a love match, the little Princess and the youthful Prince falling in love with each other before ever the future Kaiser and the calculating Duke of Cumberland contemplated such a union.

The match united the reigning houses of Hohenzollern, Grub, Hesse and the slimmed-down Hanoverian throne as the ancient bone of contention between the Kaiser and the King. Prince Ernest, the hereditary heir of the throne of Hanover and a relative of King George, is now a member of the Kaiser household, so England and Germany cannot well quarrel over his rights.

RECONCILIATION WEDDING.

The "reconciliation wedding" that thus bridges a gulf of fifty years formally began at 5 o'clock in the afternoon in the private chapel of the Kaiser's palace. The service was preceded by a civil ceremony in the rooms of the palace, witnessed only by the members of the two families, Hohenzollern and Guelph.

The Kaiser and Kaiserin Augusta Victoria were dressed in their three sisters-in-law and sons and uncles who came "Little Sister," as they call her, plight her troth to Prince Ernest in the civil ceremony. After the civil wedding and the crowning of the formal religious ceremony in the chapel at which Chief Court Chaplain, Dr. D. Dryander officiated, it being his fourth wedding ceremony in the Kaiser's family. As the bride and groom left the room, the other end of the castle, a battery of field artillery in the "Lustgarten" without fired a thunderous salute.

IN THE CHAPEL.

The little chapel which is barely large enough for 150 persons was gorgeously decorated with flowers and ribbons in which myrtle predominated. Dr. Dryander, in his vestments of the flower, the glittering uniforms and gleaming stars and medals, intermixed with the elaborate gowns of the women, made a brilliant picture possibly never before equaled, "certainly never before equalled."

The royal bride's $1000 gown was of white satin with point lace applique, no more elaborate or costly than those worn by many American brides but the details of it were lost in the throng of the flood of female spectators. The Princess wore a "little Sister" and at its conclusion Chaplain Dryander preached a short sermon which closed with a wife's duty to her husband.

At the end of the Chaplain's remarks, Prince Ernest kissed his bride and the Kaiser and Queen Mary and the Czar on the other. The slim, young Princess and the stalwart young Prince gave themselves to each other, both parties of the ceremony having exchanged alike rings. The other ring, during the ceremony the cathedral choir rendered portions of Mendelssohn's "Elisabeth" and at its conclusion Chaplain Dryander preached a short sermon which closed with a wife's duty to her husband.

IN MARBLE HALL.

Following the wedding was a reception at the Kaiser's residence in the winter hall of the palace. The Kaiser and Kaiserin, together with the couple announced daybreak.

Princess Louise dressed in twenty minutes.

(BY CABLE AND FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE OVERLAND TO THE TIMES) BERLIN, May 24.—[Special Dispatch.] Before breakfast this morning the Kaiser and his daughter conferred for almost an hour in the Emperor's library. The Empress joined them after they had been alone most of this time and then the Imperial Princes greeted their sister in turn. The Kaiser was up a full half-hour before the signal gun announced daybreak.

Kaiser and Princess walked for some time in the gardens of the Schloss. Later in the day the Princess and Kaiser, together with the couple announced daybreak.

Princess Louise looked a radiantly happy bride with the wreath of myrtle clasping her silken waving hair done up in a simple but stylish coiffure. The well-kept white blouse, over the long, sweeping train of lace and silvered white silk. The front of the dress gave a peep of deep lace underskirt beneath and the white slippers encasing the bride's exquisitely small feet. As she appeared with her gloved hand resting upon her father's soldierly arm, the great Bradenburg Ring before the crown, she presented a picture of surpassing loveliness. A photograph was taken of this scene at the suggestion of her godmother, Grand Duchess Luisa.

CHAR LATE RISER.

The Char arose late and spent most of the time before the public ceremonies began with King George and Queen Mary. The Russian Emperor was suffering from a bad cold and coughed incessantly. It is nothing serious, however, and he is subject to fits of coughing. The Emperor and the Princess sat together on the balcony overlooking the gardens, after breakfast listening to the music of the military bands.

As the troops passed to their assigned places on the route they made a grand demonstration of Germany's mightiest strength. Every regiment proved to be at its best and the variety of splendid uniforms was a sight to the foreign visitors. There was no trouble in preserving order and the police had little to do beyond keeping the crowds of onlookers in line. Every member of the police force was on duty night through the day and far into the night.

BROTHERHOOD MEMORIAL.

The sixteen lodges of the Fraternal Brotherhood of the Knights of Pythias will hold a joint memorial service to be held in Alhambra Hall on Sunday afternoon, June 8. An address will be delivered by Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher and there will be a special programme of music.

WHAT IS DRUNKENNESS?

On What Falls Burden of Proof? Interesting Law Points to Be Raised in Libel Suit.

MARQUETTE (Mich.) May 24.—After the selection of a jury and the opening statement of counsel for the plaintiff in the libel suit of Theodore Roosevelt against G. A. Newell, which begins here next Monday, Judge Richard C. Flannigan, among his first duties, probably will be called upon to rule on what will fall on the plaintiff and defendant.

The points upon which local lawyers are cogitating is whether Roosevelt must prove that the drunkard charge was libelous, or whether his claim for damages can be sufficiently sustained by the facts adduced in the editorial charge, leaving to the defendant the burden of proving the truth of the allegations in the editorial printed in the Iron Ore, during the Presidential campaign last year.

What constitutes drunkenness is another point calculated, it is said, to afford much argument for counsel. It is said that drunkenness has been defined in many ways by many courts. It is judged by many tests, including the individual according to court decisions for white men, and the public sentiment of it.

Leaders of the British Embassy wore a train of sheer rose pink chiffon tissue over a gown of white silver brocade.

Baroness von Gontard, who was Miss Busch of St. Louis, wore white with a wide sash and a diamond belt. Her pierces de strass. Her overdress was finished with a train of petticoats colored velvet.

Franz von Bulow, who is a daughter of Col. Campbell-Bryce of South Carolina, was in white satin and gold embroidery with a wide border and a train of white brocade.

Miss Leishman wore pink charmeuse, embroidered with silver, a train of silver and pink brocade and a diamond tiara and necklace.

Miss Lucy Leishman wore silver guipure brooch embroidered with turquoise and a train of silver embroidery.

Senora de Quesada, wife of the Cuban Minister, was in white and gold brocade, with a bodice covered with pearls and a train of violet velvet.

Countess von der Groeben, one of Berlin's well known hostesses, wore a transparent train of antique pink lace over an Empire gown of silver brocade.

Great Duchess Luisa of Baden, the oldest living Hohenzollern, was conducted by the Crown Prince. She made a striking picture in a white dress and veil.

Prince Ernst Auguste, clad in the uniform of the Guards, wearing the yellow ribbon of the Black Eagle order, was attended by Freiherr von Richthofen.

The Empress was in a gown of emerald silver brocade and a court train of a dark hue, adorned with the Duke of Cumberland's diamond tiara and necklace.

First that organized labor will seek a substitute measure by invoking the initiative, on the ground that the so-called Webb bill is not strong enough. Reference to the initiative will not detract the present bill.

Sufficient signatures to call for an election are easily available without going outside San Francisco.

Second, that organized labor will seek to invoke the initiative for a referendum election, which, if called, would prevent the Webb bill from going into effect until the last election was decided, which could not be until November, 1914.

Favoring the application of referendum as well as the initiative is the Asiatic Exclusion League.

Seven Silesian Maids Brought to Berlin to Spin the Dauntless Fabrics for the Princess.

(By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line)

BERLIN, May 24.—[Special Dispatch.] Proud witnesses of the wedding scene in the Chapel Royal were the seven Silesian lace makers who have with their skill hands the lace for the British Queen and train for the Duke of Cambridge.

They were given excellent places alongside the schoolgirl friends of the Princess, one of whom was Miss Yvette Borup of New York. They knew all about the Silesian girls are famous for their work. They are noted experts among women who think of little else than weaving wonderful lace. It suits especially made for them they were brought to Berlin where a workshop and dormitory was prepared for them. NEWPORT (R. I.) May 24.—Eleven of the largest battleships in the navy constituting the Atlantic Squadron were sunk theoretically, today in an encounter with five submarines off Block Island Sound. The attack took place three hours after dawn and under a dull sky and streaks of fog.

The battleship fleet expected the attack and all hands had been mustered to quarters when the gray back of an underwater craft rose out of the sea on the bow of the flagship Wyoming. Before the guns of the ship could be trained on the submarine the "enemy" a dozen torpedoes struck the Wyoming well below the water line. The 26,000-ton warship, which cost several millions to build, foundered, carrying down most of her 800 men, and was torpedoed and sent to the bottom and the fleet was sent to Narragansett Bay with the victorious submarines.

Mrs. Atwood Says Husband Told Her to Go Somewhere Else and She Went to Reno.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

RENO, Nev., May 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Charging desertion, Mrs. Sarah Atwood today was given a divorce from Harry Atwood, the aviator, and also the custody of the young daughter. The wife, who had told her husband early in 1912 to leave him and go some place else to make her home as he was tired of living with her and she immediately came to Reno and prepared to secure a divorce.

An agreement, made by her husband to pay her $20 a week for the support of herself and child, was made a part of the divorce decree.

The couple were married at Lynn, Mass., February 7, 1912. The wife testified that five years after their marriage they separated for a short time, but later became reconciled and came to live together again.

O'HARA CASE
CITED AGAIN.*Mrs. Vredenburgh Files Suit for Legal Separation.*Bases Her Action on the Sherman Hotel Episode.*Takes Data from Affidavit Against State Official.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) May 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. D. Vredenburgh today filed suit for divorce from her husband, the millionaire lumber dealer, who was named in the affidavit presented against Lt.-Gov. O'Hara, the connection with the recent vice commission investigation. O'Hara, the father of the Senate Vice Commission, and Vredenburgh were alleged to have been registered at the Sherman Hotel with two women companions. The woman, a Miss Rosalie Ward, and O'Hara both testified that they did no wrong. The Senate committee exonerated them. On the strength of the affidavit, however, Mrs. Vredenburgh now sues for a divorce.

Mrs. Vredenburgh, although not naming the woman, gives the same date as that given in the affidavit. In the declaration, Mrs. Vredenburgh states that the name of the woman is known to her, but that the alleged offense was committed January 17, at Chicago.

The papers were filed in the local Circuit Court by Walter Pease, brother of the complainant, and, because he had no money, Pease demands that money be granted by the court for the wife to continue the suit and that a certain amount of property be set aside, if the decree is granted, from the proceeds of which she may adduce the two children.

The couple were married May 16, 1899, in this city and she states that they have been separated since May 1, 1912. She asks for the custody of the two children, Warren, aged 10 years, and Thomas, Warren, aged 11 years.

A preliminary hearing will probably be held within the next few days to determine the amount of temporary alimony, but the actual trial will not be held until September.

through the object implied in the calling of the National Executive Committee at just about the time they wanted a national convention. Members of the National Executive Committee, however, indicate by their attitude that there is no question as to whether or not the convention should be held, and declare that action in matters under consideration will receive attention and will be settled in time to perform effective service in connection with the primaries and elections of 1912. The "off-year" primaries and elections which promise to be of greater importance than any that have taken place in two decades.

TO UNRAVEL LEGAL TANGLE.

The committee of lawyers appointed today will be vested with much important work aside from advising the National Committee of the "law." It will meet in its room at the office of Chairman Hillis. It will consider and report on all the vexed questions that have been put forward in connection with Republican organization. It is likely to suggest a programme of action to broaden the reform of the body of representation and the rules regarding recognition of primary laws. One very important question that has been broached is the creation of some permanent tribunal which shall take the place of the National Convention. The "junket" will be a most important feature of the new organization.

The greatest part of the money was expended for luncheons, automobile and hotel accommodations for the wives of the legislators. About 250 persons were entertained by the Harbor Board on the occasion of the "junket." This included about 50 members of the members of the Legislature and their families, the wives of the men of the San Francisco Merchants Exchange and Chamber of Commerce, city officials of San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, army and navy officers and Panama-Pacific Exposition board members.

Although the excursion was enjoyed by such a varied company, the invitations were extended nominally to the "legislators and their families," by the Harbor Board and the Exposition Commission. The trip from San Francisco was conducted by harbor and exposition officials for the purpose of "lobbying."

The entertainment at San Francisco in which the Harbor Board and exposition people took part included a trip to the Fisherman's Wharf, an automobile trip through the Presidio and exposition grounds and luncheons.

The claims on which the board is asked to act for approval are:

Refugees for 250 guests, $250.

Printing invitations, $12.

Automobiles, $241.

Hotel lunches for legislators' wives, $25.75.

"I am very much gratified with the conclusions reached by the Executive Committee today," said Senator Cumming tonight. "It is just what the committee of which I was chairwoman ought to be exactly what he wants. The executive has no authority except to call the general committee together. When it decided to do that, it did all it could do. It is for the general committee when it comes together to determine whether a national convention shall be held and at what time and we shall expect to hear before the National Committee with regard to our views on the point. It is true that the National Committee will not be held this year. Various arguments are advanced as to the legitimacy of a claim for "lobbying" at the expense of the State even though a State department seeks to spend its own funds in that manner.

Lobbyists undoubtedly enjoyed the "junket," the lunch and the free automobile rides and appreciated why it was being done.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]
LONDON, May 24.—Severe fighting has been resumed between the Greeks and the Bulgarian troops in the vicinity of Salonica. The infantry and artillery of both forces are hotly engaged near that city, according to dispatches received here from Athens.

The dispatches refer to the situation as having become extremely grave. When the last message was sent King Constantine of Greece who had just arrived at Salonica with the general staff of the Greek army, was endeavoring to arrange a neutral zone between the two armies.

California Leads the World in Pleasure Car Sales!

MORE pleasure cars are sold in California every month than anywhere else in the world, according to figures recently published in the Underwriter's Report. One out of five people in the State owns or uses an auto, and the monthly volume of automobile business amounts to over $3,000,000 or 2000 cars a month.

We have a plan by which this already stupendous business should be increased by about eighty per cent—not only in California, but all over the Coast and West—eventually all over the United States.

You Can Make a Big Profit on Much of This Business

The profits to be made on just one car are large—but think what the profits would be on thousands of cars every month. With our plan well under way there is absolutely no reason why we should not be reaping profits on a large percentage of all the pleasure cars and trucks sold throughout the entire West—and even throughout the country.

But we haven't the funds to carry out the project. We need more capital. This is where your opportunity comes in. You can buy shares in this company for a very limited time at their par value—the lowest price for which these gilt-edge securities have ever sold.

Price of Stock Will Surely Advance as Much as $2.50 In a Short Time

As soon as the first 15,000 shares have been closed out the price will go up $2.50 higher than shares are now selling for. This will be very soon. Make the fullest investigation into this exceptional proposition immediately. Send the coupon below for full details.

DRINK MORE WATER IN SUMMER

But Be Absolutely Sure It Is PURE.
Better Buy Puritas Distilled Water.

Give your system all the water it needs in summer—it's necessary to flush the body. Don't be afraid to drink all the water you wish, if it is not too chilled.

But be sure the water you drink is PURE. Don't take chances with the city water. BUY PURITAS DISTILLED WATER AND BE SAFE.

Puritas never varies, year in and year out. It's the same pure water in summer that it is in the other seasons—because we purify it by methods that have no dependence on seasons or dry conditions.

Puritas is not only distilled—it is aerated with pure ozone, and then sealed in dust-proof demijohns that absolutely protect this sparkling water from the innumerable impurities of the air.

Try a five-gallon demijohn of Puritas and see if you don't find it superior to the water you've been drinking. The cost of five gallons is but 40c, delivered anywhere within the city boundary line. Just telephone our office—Home 10055, Main 8191. Deliveries are prompt. Los Angeles Ice & Cold Storage Co.

BREAD IS FASOLINE.

Five Thousand Loaves to Be Given Away Tomorrow at the Times Building.

Between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. tomorrow 5000 loaves of "Fasoline bread" will be given away over the counter of the Times office at First street and Broadway. These loaves are to be baked at the Confidential Bakery, No. 817 East Ninth street.

The loaves are a delicious new shredded bread, a toothsome, nutritious meal, sold at 10 cents a loaf. The breads on the market with wonder names labeled on them. As has been said, "the proof is in the eating" and as it will only cost the exertion of moving to the Times office to get the "fasoline" bread, it is evident that every loaf will be taken away before the afternoon is over.

The baker of Fasoline bread comes from Philadelphia and is said to have had the reputation of feeding the Quakers the most wholesome bread ever baked there.

MAD LOU MAKES MERRY WARFARE

MISCHIEF MIXER MINCES MANY MIGHTY MINIONS.

Policemen Wounded by Rapid-Fire Flings of Kitchen Utensils—Woman and Weapons Finally Fired. Amazon Succumbs With Tooth Clamped on Revolver Butt.

The arsenal that lurks in a kitchen, including hot soup, was trained on a squad of police who attempted to take Mad Lou Williams from her domicile at No. 1111 Berendo street yesterday. Her little antics with a carving-knife, and flinging of an iron pot at the head of her husband, brought Police-officer Craig to the house to arrest her.

Craig knocked at the door and told the mad woman that he would have a few words with her. The gross scuttled back into her armory and gave him his answer. It was a flat iron that bounded off his head into the street. That sent Craig to the telephone with a call for reserves, and Police Captain Tom Koenig, both and Motor-boat Patrolman Hook were dispatched to help him.

The three started to ambush Mad Lou from various points of vantage. The woman stood in the center of her kitchen floor, brandishing the like a cutlass, surrounded by all knives and points. Flat irons and frying pan darts from Lou's hands with painful accuracy, and big bumps began growing over the policemen's anatomies. A black eye sprouted on Craig's nose, and a skull caught him across the face.

Then Koenig made a dash to capture the woman in her lair. Mad Lou picked up a kettle of soup and dashed it over the policeman. He retreated fast and noisy, later coming to the aid of his wife. He fled from the burns. When Mad Lou was gloating over her victory Craig jumped in and seized her. She brought a butcher-knife across his hand, nearly severing his forefinger. Mad Lou lay still after Hook, who still preserved an untrashed face, with a pitchfork, making him vault a chicken coop. His leap for safety cost him a pair of trousers that were partly distributed over three nails picketing the coop.

You Can Save Many Dollars on Your Building if You Buy Your Lumber, Sash, Doors, Plumbing Supplies, Paint and Hardware at our Store Complete Line of Everything

Millions of feet of lumber, all grades and dimensions, in our yard at present and our prices are absolutely the lowest in the city. Mail us your lists and note the great saving we offer you in this line.

SASH AND DOORS.

In our sash and door department we have many other great bargains for the home builder. We always carry a very heavy stock of sash, doors, casements, etc., and an immense stock of No. 1 screen doors. No matter what you want we can fill your requirements at satisfactory prices.

We have just received two carloads of doors, and wish to call your particular attention to the newest departure in the market of doors. We are now showing the latest feature in the art of door manufacture. Our five-panel mission doors which we will supply at the same price we have been furnishing the old style five-panel Colonial doors. This is something new and will cause you to investigate as these doors will be found in all the latest improved houses.

PLUMBING SUPPLIES.

We have 600 Low Down Vitreous China Tanks and bowls with oak seat equipped with most substantial fittings complete to the floor from $12.50 to $16.50. These are the best closet combinations for the money on the market and it will pay you to investigate.

Hundreds of Bath Tubs, all sizes and kinds, from $14 up, complete with nickel trimmings.

Lavatories, Laundry Trays, Kitchen Sinks, Pipe and Fittings of All Kinds at proportionate prices.

HARDWARE, ROOFING, PAINT.

We have doubled our Hardware Department in the last thirty days and are prepared to fill your requirements for everything in the light builder's hardware line.

We have a large supply of Galvanized Corrugated Iron in all lengths at $2.25 per square. This is an exceptionally good grade of iron and meets with universal satisfaction.

All kinds of Roofing Paper, one, two and three ply from $1.00 to $1.40 per roll including nails and cement ready to lay.

BEAVER BOARDS.

Known the world over and can't be beat for walls and ceilings. Regular price $20, cut price $15. This is a great bargain and you can't find anything better for the money.

GAS RANGES.

We have on hand at present a fine line of gas ranges and can save you 20 per cent on a range if you are looking for a bargain.

PAINT! PAINT! PAINT!

We have just received large stock of bankrupt stock of paint. Have all colors but white. Will close the same out at $1.25 per gallon. Come early and avoid the rush.

Thousands of gallons of Whiting's best paint in all colors at $1.50 per gallon, also guaranteed at 25 per cent.

SHINOLE STAIN, 50c per gallon. This is equal to any 75c stain on the market. Flat wall colors, regular $2.25 grade at $1.25 per gallon, while it lasts. Cup grease, 5c. In Autographic cylinder oil, 50c per gallon. Bath, roof, bridge and fence paint at $1.00 per gallon; ladders, brushes, etc.

Everything in this store is new, clean material and most courteous attention always given to our customers, whether you buy or not.

WHITING MEAD COMMERCIAL COMPANY.

415 East 9th Street.

SECOND-HAND BUILDING MATERIAL BARGAINS.

At present we have more second-hand building material in our immense yards than ever before in its history. In particular over a million feet of lumber with thousands of feet coming in from numerous wrecking jobs. In order to move this lumber and make room for the constantly incoming material we are forced to make immense sacrifice in our regular prices and if you are intending to build it will pay you to come in and let us show you where we can save you from 25 per cent to 65 per cent.

A STAR. One star bathetic, 10c per box, complete in good order, only $1.50. Bath salts, 10c per box. Mail stagecoach office dispensing safe at a bargain. Closets, partitions and doors, all sizes and kinds, from $1.00 up. Furniture, linens, etc., from $1.00 up. Fine iron castings, etc.

SCAFFOLDING PAPER. Just received two carloads of four grades roofing paper, which we have graded and placed in sets selling from $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00 per roll and up.

SCAFFOLDING SUPPLIES. The usual large assortment of everything in plumbing at most attractive prices. We can make you a great saving in this line.

PIPE. Let us fill all your pipe wants. We have all sizes and kinds at 25 per cent off.

POULTRY WIRE and HOG FENCING in all sizes cheaper than elsewhere.

The Safest Thing on Earth to Buy

Producing Alfalfa Land With Water Rights Free

The business of making money off the land demands good sense and judgment. It contemplates no luck, possibility, or accident. It must consider facts only. The farmer seeks the land that is ready to work now, in the living present, and not in the doubtful future.

Perris Irrigated Farms are ready for you to go to work. They have the soil and the water. They have the fertility required for big crops of alfalfa, and large yields of fruit. Hogs live stock and poultry find a climate there conducive to the best health and development.

in Prizes

A first prize of $75, a second prize of $50 and a third prize of $25 will be given for the best amateur photographs of the view of the city and mountains from Angeles Mesa.

Phone or call at our offices for full particulars.

Take your kodak with you today and spend an hour or so on the high, airy, viewful eminence to the southwest, known as Angeles Mesa—the city's highest viewpoint.

Pure, fresh air, magnificent view, a balcony homesite where the kindly influences of nature clear the eye, throw the shoulders back and put new life in a man.

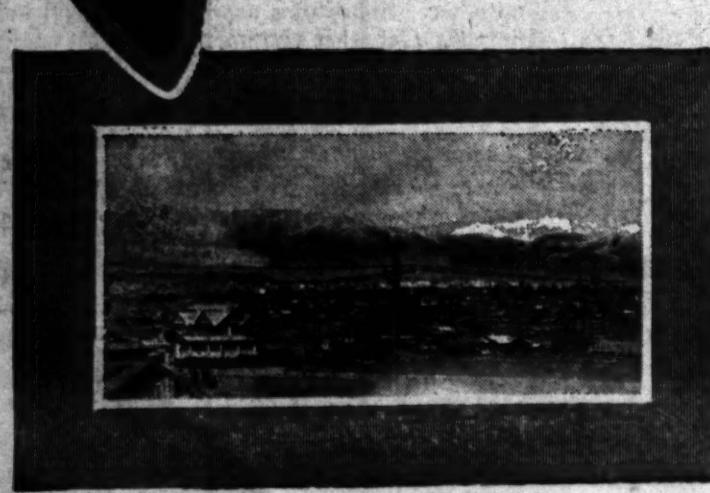

The car fare to Angeles Mesa is 5 cents.

Homes on Angeles Mesa command a 50-mile vista of city and mountains—enjoy a perfect system of natural gravity drainage and every mid-city convenience—possessing at the same time the fresh, snappy air and the unhampered roominess of the country.

Lots are selling at the low price of $850 and up—easy terms.

Property SALES are rapidly approaching the $2,000,000.00 mark. Property VALUES have doubled within the last 15 months—and are constantly going higher.

WHO PAYS FOR MEAL TICKET?

"Pinhead" McCarthy Not Rated a Philanthropist.

Has Lost His Grip on the Los Angeles Workers.

Shenk Speaks on One of the Dominant Evils.

McCarthy has been here several days this week and was here several days last week working all the time assiduously among the labor unions and the Socialists in behalf of continues to misrepresent the conference and the candidates it has endorsed. He states, for instance, that the "conference candidates are pledged to a temporary arrangement with the power companies for the distribution of the aqueduct power." That is nothing in our opinion indicating, nor has there a word of truth in the statement, that our candidates are pledged to a temporary arrangement. Nevertheless, as pointed out by Shenk, it is worth while, before the time arrives when another bond issue can be submitted under the law, to try to come to an agreement with the power companies for the eventual acquisition of their distributing lines.

It has become quite evident that we cannot expect justice or fair treatment from Earl in this campaign. The attitude of our Council candidates has been made perfectly clear to the readers of those papers that are fair enough to publish their statements; and since Earl seems determined to let his readers out of their own construction on the English language, but must translate and transpose and interpret for them, so that they will see through his eyes and think as he thinks, we give it up for a bad job.

The terrible calamity in our neighbor city must give pause to those most interested in the wind-up of the

TOUCHED WITH WARM SYMPATHY.CANDIDATE SHENK DRAWS LESS SON FROM CADAMITY.

Delivers Three Speeches in the Seaport District and Pledges Quickest Possible Redemption of All Pledged-Splendid Water System Shows Earnings of Purpose.

John W. Shenk, Municipal Conference candidate for Mayor, spoke at three meetings held in San Pedro and Wilmington last night. At the first of the series he touched feelingly upon the great calamity that befell the city of Long Beach yesterday. He spoke in part as follows:

"The terrible calamity in our neighbor city must give pause to those most interested in the wind-up of the Board of Public Works. Questions about diversions from several abutting lakes will be met by my withholding an amount equal to the amounts they would pay from the $25,000 available for this improvement.

"This street-making work in Pacific avenue is a part of the general scheme of port improvement which I have been pushing ever since I came here. Perhaps you have been patient, to put it mildly, because all of the pledges of consolidation have not been carried out, but it is my belief that we are doing pretty well just now in harbor building and that you will soon cease to worry over delays that have been caused by such less than honest work on the part of officials."

"These pledges were made long ago. Some of them have not been fulfilled.

The administrations that have followed the making of the pledges have not been able, perhaps, to keep them all, but that is no reason for not keeping them. I have, myself, my administration to call myself and my administration to account, and if there has been unnecessary delay or inexplicable dodging promptly to take steps within the power of the city to make good on every promise that the people of the big city made and San Pedro voted to ratify."

At a third meeting Mr. Shenk said: "The city has taken over the water systems of San Pedro and Wilmington and has made a connection with Terminal Island at a cost of nearly $200,000, all told. A new pumping station is an important part of the improvements and there is a reservoir of great capacity to be made. This provision ought to assure the harbor district of a sure and abundant supply of pure water and ample protection against a great shipping conflagration, so much feared. Fire boats will be provided and a fire system is under way which will utilize the channel waters as additional protection."

MINISTERING ANGEL.

Santa Monica Woman Wins Gratuity of Prisoners With Dainty Edibles and Magazines—News Briefs.

SANTA MONICA, May 24.—Miss Emilie Moss, city librarian, has become known as the ministering angel of the county prisoners who are building the Topanga road, and are encamped at the mouth of the Topanga Canyon. Miss Moss has for several days carried books and magazines with little dainties to the prisoners, who are grateful to her for the gifts. Today Miss Moss issued a call for old magazines in any quantity to take out to the prisoners, and received a liberal response. Tomorrow or next day a wagon load of magazines will trundle along the Coast road to be placed in the hands of the prisoners.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Merchants are having difficulty in getting funds for the upkeep of the Santa Monica Municipal Band, which plays at the North Beach Plaza. They issued a call today for subscriptions to pay up back dues and to assure the band of its regular place in the community. That put out that, without a band, the beach front of Santa Monica will present a deserted appearance this summer and all will suffer. The committee is composed of W. J. Stadelman, F. C. Speer, H. J. McElroy, H. C. Speer, H. C. Shrock, A. M. Montgomery, C. D. Francis, T. H. James, F. E. Bundy and Victor McLucas.

The Greater Santa Monica Club, in an enthusiastic meeting last night, renewed its offer to help the band in the city. The committee previously named to take up the matter of a clean-up day was continued with pertinent instructions. The club appointed a committee, consisting of W. J. Stadelman, Victor McLucas, F. E. Stadelman, H. C. Miller to interview editor of city papers and secure more space for Santa Monica.

"TO UPLIFT AND BENEFIT MANKIND," says THE REV. JAMES STANLEY WENTZ.

WONDERFUL BOOK DESCRIBING THIS STRANGE FORCE AND A CHARACTER DELINEATION POST FREE TO ALL WHO WRITE AT ONCE.

The National Institute of Sciences of London, England, has appropriated $25,000 toward a fund for the free distribution of "Knowledge of the Inner Force." The book lays many astounding facts concerning the power of thought to uplift and benefit mankind. I heartily recommend this book to all who desire to develop and cultivate their inner force.

A leading London Physician, Dr. R. N. Fleischman, M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P., in a letter, has written: "I am sending you the system the most complete and accurate literature upon the subject. You have truly hit the nail on the head."

Prof. Stanley Wentz, author of the book, says: "Rich and poor, learned and unlearned, you will find this book of great value."

That Prof. Wentz's system is the greatest invention in the history of man, I heartily endorse.

I have noted that within the past year or two, six or eight leading American cities, including New York, Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas City, have had local investigations by vice committees. When a body of vice committee members, the clergy and the medical profession are striking especially hard at a certain class of people, it is a safe bet that they are after the secret of this disease-bearing, life-ruining evil. I shall do everything in my power and shall avail myself of the best advice obtainable to give just such knowledge as could be adapted to his particular circumstances and inclinations."

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Southern Pacific filed yesterday a protest against the license fee set by the Harbor Commission for its right to do business at the harbor. This will cause a public hearing. Harbor Commissioners want a change in the ordinance so that all funds derived from the harbor may be expended by the commission on harbor betterments.

City Treasurer Hance reported yesterday that there yet remain in his vault $69,865.65 of unsold state bonds issued for street improvements. Important street work is held up pending the sale of these bonds.

All bids for the storm sewer in Front street, San Pedro, were rejected by the Board of Public Works yesterday. Only one was regular.

The Board of Public Works was formally notified yesterday that the Public Service Commission has adopted a resolution providing for a loan of $300,000 to the works board to continue work on the aqueduct power project.

One of the heiresses of the De Baker estate brought suit yesterday to cancel a trust deed which she alleged her son-in-law, whom she trusted, obtained from her under false pretenses.

Judge Craig decided yesterday that the streets of Chinatown are private property and that the city cannot claim them, as the owners have paid for the improvements and the taxes.

Star Paving Proceedings.

The Hollywood Board of Trade appealed to the Board of Public Works against the paving of a portion of Hollywood boulevard from Normandie avenue to Vermont avenue and of Sunset boulevard, from Vermont avenue to Fountain street.

The board has recommended that the City Council be instructed to the City Council to prepare the necessary ordinance for the paving of these portions of said streets, which will make a continuous paved highway from Hollywood to the city.

The suit was tried by Judge Craig just Monday by Deputy City Attorney Westover representing the city, and Walter Haas and Thomas C. Coulson for Carrasco. The two sides opted on the land said to have been $200,000. An agreed statement of facts was submitted to the court, among others that Mrs. Sepulveda derived the property from heirs of Abelardo Alvarado, who had died in 1907.

The city made a hard fight to retain the streets, but failed to show dedication. The Chinese tenants who use the streets will still enjoy that privilege.

BIG STOCK SUIT.

PALMERS PRETENSES ALLEGED.

Relining on the altered representation that the Merchants' and Insurers' Reporting Company was in a sound financial condition and had a large surplus, H. A. C. McPhail bought 1,000 shares of the capital stock for $125,000 to diversify his investments, that representation was false.

The suit was filed yesterday to recover the amount of the stock paid in.

McPhail alleges in his complaint that he continued to be deceived by the company's financial and criminal methods in order that he might not discover the alleged fraud practiced. Eight quarterly dividends were paid, he asserts, amounting to $14,000, of which he received $1,000.

The company has received $1,000 of the proceeds of the sale of stock and not out of the surplus, which a published statement said contained more than $20,000.

COURT SAYS SAY.

WOMAN STAYS IN JAIL.

The efforts to free Mrs. Della B. Rawson from the County Jail, where she was confined by Justice Wood Friday on a fraud judgment, resulted yesterday in failure. Attorney Redd argued that the court should release her on bail, but Judge Wood held that execution was against her body in a case of fraud and that the point is fully covered by the law.

The action which resulted in Mrs. Rawson's confinement as a divorcee and matrimonial agent, being committed to jail was brought by Mrs. Gertrude Ryckman, who sold her an apartment-house. Mrs. Rawson pleaded insolvency during the hearing before Judge Wood but the court found she had not shown she was incapable of discharging the $1000 judgment.

The evidence disclosed that Mrs. Marie D. Fuller, Mrs. Rawson's daughter, held equities to the amount of $25,000 and the court advised Mrs. Rawson to realize on these equities.

LOVE FINDS WAY.

COURTS IN PIDGEON ENGLISH.

When Judge Monroe learned yesterday in a failure to provide case that Mrs. Henriette Rose was a Dutch woman and her husband, John, a Portuguese, and they spoke the other's language, he asked in what language they courted.

Through an interpreter Rose said they talked pigeon English. This did not solve the doubt in the court's mind, as he was told they had courted one year and been married three years and apparently their pigeon English was more intelligible than their own language to strangers. Rose was wrapped in blankets, it was said, to keep almost as well. While sweet peas show more of a tendency to wilt, they are being sent away in great quantities.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

RETRIBUTION MISCELLANEOUS.

SHE'S FREE NOW. Allen D. Dary, after a few words with his wife, packed his trunk and left home. That was four years ago, after a married life of twenty-nine years, and yesterday Mrs. Dary obtained a divorce on the ground of desertion. The trouble arose over Mrs. Dary renting a room to a man named John, who was a notorious person and without knowing to the contrary Mrs. Dary ordered them to leave. This, however, did not stop Dary from going to.

HOME TOO SLOW. "My wife wanted to leave fast," he said. "I told her, 'Wait,' said George M. Henderson, clerk for the Standard Oil Company at El Segundo, in Judge Monroe's court yesterday. He said she was not satisfied, as things were too slow for him. He was granted a decree of divorce. Two risqué photographs found in Mrs. Henderson's trunk helped in his decision to leave.

ASKS PROBATION. Harry R. East pleaded guilty to forging the name of his mother to a check for $48.50 in Judge Willis' court yesterday. He asked for probation. His past record will be investigated.

A HEARTY SUPPLICATION.
The militant suffragettes of Great Britain are exploding more bombs. "God save the King" ought to become a very popular air over there.

A LOVELY FLOWER.
The yellow columbines are blooming now. The columbine at sea level never has the liquid beauty of the columbine of the high hills, yet the yellow ones in California are clear and lovely.

A STATEMENT OF POVERTY.
One of the planks in the platform of the social creed of the churches is the abatement of poverty. The way in which poverty can be abated is by industry and economy.

II AS THE GOODS.
The King of England says his chief aim is to be able to preserve world peace. He is lucky enough to have a navy sufficiently large to realize this ambition. No man can keep the peace like the fellow who is always prepared for a scuffle.

A CITY'S FREIGHT.
The average family in Pasadena consists of three and nine-tenths people. We suppose that a wife and two children are the people and that the husband is the nine-tenths. We also notice that that city has 3000 more women than men. Don't rush over to Pasadena, however, expecting to see a sign out, "Man Wanted Inside."

THE HABIT.
Statistics show that 60 per cent. of Harvard's big men have made their way through college. They were no better at the start than the boys who were supported while at school, but they fell into the habit of working while in college and kept it up afterward. The faculty for doing things and of application will bring success to any man.

A UNFAIR STATEMENT.
A news item announces that a California railroad official who married in Los Angeles has been a bachelor for forty years. A man doesn't really take his bachelor's degree until he is 30, so our friend in this instance was not nearly so mature as he has been unintentionally stated. A bachelor 40 years old has been a bachelor only ten years.

THE GOOD FIGHT.
I waged a long battle against an appetite for alcohol. A Long Beach man killed himself. This fight men make to live in the bodies in which they find themselves is often brave, yet blind. It can make no difference what the body desires when once a man is convinced that his body is not himself, but that it is the house in which he lives and of which he has the perfect and reasonable right of control.

A SPORTING SUGGESTION.
The automobile editor of the Japan Times of Tokio complains that 100 accidents have taken place in that city in a little over a year. He makes the suggestion that it is improper for persons in machines, when passing pedestrians, to wear a haughty look, as this engenders bad feeling and is unbecoming. It is the duty, he thinks, of those who are rich enough to ride to look with sympathy and compassion upon all those who have to walk. One is pleased to meet an automobile editor having a gentle disposition.

THE LADY WAY.
It is sometimes hard to tell whether a man has finished an experience or he has simply escaped from it without having learned its lesson. Sometimes men hastily finish things, but more often they only fall them. An experience is like taking an examination: often one fails to pass. An interesting phase of life is that the undigested experience is immediately repeated from some other angle. If a man might live 100 years and try to do something different every day, the same old lessons would stare him in the face until all he was meant to learn had really been mastered.

DEAD LEAVES.
Sometimes a man and a woman will go into a garden of roses and, although it is full of fragrant rich blossoms, they will pick from the bushes only the dry dead leaves of withered and shattered blooms. They might leave this work to nature and go away with arms filled with fresh roses to sweeten the day and spill their perfume over the garden path and through the house. Men and women, and especially husbands and wives, often do this in the garden of life. Their exquisite mornings, their copious high noon and their cool, inviting twilights they spend not in gathering the roses of the hour, but in picking the bitter fruit of the leaf.

NINETY-SEVEN ANTI-MILITANTS.
Ninety-seven Dutch bluejackets who were in the Dutch East Indies were convicted of "anti-militant tendencies." They were dismissed from the navy in disgrace and sent home to The Hague. Why did they send them home? Why not have put them ashore and turned them loose to work out their own salvation among the heathen Hindus?

Will Andrew Carnegie give them work on his Scotch estate? or will he pay their passage to the Quaker settlements in Pennsylvania, where they can help to cultivate and pack garden seeds on week days and at the Sabbath sit on one side of the meeting-house and look kindly upon the drab-clad sisters on the other side?

Of what use, anyhow, is a fighting man who won't fight?

RECOGNITION OF HUERTA.
There appears to be no good reason, in international law or otherwise, why the government of the United States should any longer withhold recognition of Gen. Victoriano Huerta as President of Mexico. The stories of the manner in which and the cause for which his predecessor, Madero, met his death are conflicting. That, in any event, is no national concern of ours. The undisputed fact, and the only fact of which we as a nation, have any right to take cognizance, is that Gen. Huerta has for months maintained his position despite certain armed and organized opposition, as President of Mexico. The rebellion against him in the State of Sonora has not crystallized into an actual organized government, and if it had, it would not in the least impair Gen. Huerta's title to recognition as the de facto chief executive of the Mexican republic. If the Sonorans should succeed—as does not now seem likely—in establishing their independence as a separate sovereignty, that might raise a question as to their right of recognition as such, but would still not justify refusal to recognize the fact that Gen. Huerta is President.

As a question of policy, aside from its being a question of right, it seems inexpedient to longer withhold recognition. The United States will have, in behalf of its citizens who have been plundered, and the heirs of those who have been killed, a large number of claims against the government of Mexico. Those claims can only be presented to the government in power, and a refusal for any reason to recognize or deal with the government that is in power will not aid or expedite, or do other than delay settlement.

Again, a refusal to recognize the personality of the President because of objection to the alleged methods by which he became President, is to take sides in a factional war in a foreign state—an action which is at variance with the law and the established usage of civilized nations.

It may be said that we did not recognize, or at least did not hold diplomatic intercourse with the government of Maximilian during the brief period when he was the so-called Emperor of Mexico. But such omission was based upon the Monroe doctrine, for Maximilian was placed and kept upon his throne by a French army, with Austrian co-operation. Mr. Seward, at the conclusion of our Civil War, protested to Napoleon, and Napoleon withdrew his troops, and Maximilian was then speedily overthrown by the patriot army of Mexicans under Juarez.

Gen. Huerta is at the capital of Mexico, exercising all the executive functions of government. The opposition to him is that of predatory bands under guerrilla chiefs, no one of whom even assumes to be President of the whole country. To withhold recognition of Gen. Huerta is, under the circumstances, a mistake that can be of no benefit to us and may be productive of unpleasant complications in future. Somebody must be "on top" in Mexico, even if it be "the man on horseback," or anarchy and chaos will follow speedily.

M'CARTHY'S INTERFERENCE.
No; Los Angeles will not submit to the interference of the discredited ex-Mayor McCarthy of San Francisco in his affairs! The resentment against it is spontaneous and sweeping. The rejected San Francisco boss shall not tell us of Los Angeles whom we shall elect as Mayor or Councilmen. Neither shall Job Harriman.

The Times is aware that many of our business men have been disposed to support the candidacy of Judge Rose for Mayor; but it fails to see how they can line up with P. H. McCarthy and Job Harriman and the elements they represent; to do so would be a craven surrender. The indorsement of a movement by McCarthy and Harriman is enough to condemn it.

As The Times has often said, it has no quarrel with its friends engaged in the Rose campaign, but it must be apparent to them now that they have made a mistake. It would not do to have an administration that would be obligated to give ear to the labor-unionist and Socialist agitators—to which the notorious McCarthy could present claims. We of Los Angeles have fought too hard for the glorious industrial conditions we have won to permit the San Francisco gang to get in on us now.

Once more The Times declares that the only safe course is to unite on Shear for Mayor and the Municipal Conference ticket for the Council. The Municipal Conference plan was the right one, it was the part of wisdom and of patriotism. All who do not believe in the theory that "property is robbery" and who desire an efficient administration of city affairs should loyally follow the Municipal Conference flag. The emergency calls for steadfastness and good faith—for the subordination of personal predilection or political prejudices to the public good.

All together against the common enemy!

THE LONG BEACH HORROR.
It is too early to say much about the Long Beach disaster, in which so many people were killed or maimed, except to express the grief and sympathy of a pitying and distressed community. May heaven find solace for those who mourn!

Whose fault? There was fault. Investigation will tell whose. The pier foundations had been dislodged by the waves several times, and the construction was known to be inadequate. It was a municipal pier, and the tragedy is not a triumph for municipal ownership and management.

EFFECT OF FREE SUGAR ON CALIFORNIA.
It is not urged by President Wilson or any other Democratic statesman that to place sugar on the free list and thereby reduce the customs revenues $57,000,000 per annum, is really a movement in the direction of establishing a tariff for revenue only.

The excuse or justification offered by the President for free sugar is that it will reduce the cost of living. There are $1,000,000 people in the United States, not counting our island possessions. Free sugar will reduce their cost of living 63 cents per capita per annum.

The present tariff on sugar is $1.65 per 100 pounds. The people pay this $1.65 in paying the retail price of sugar, which is now about 85 per 100 pounds. Place sugar on the free list and if the people are to receive the benefit of free sugar the retail price would drop to $2.35 per 100 pounds. If the effect of free sugar would not be to lower the price of sugar to the American Living Down to His Record.

MORTALITY OF THE MUNICIPAL PLANT.

BY JOHN KENDRICK BANGS.

The mortality of municipal-owned light and power plants continues unabated in all parts of the country. Municipalities appear to have developed no economic Friedmann was a serum capable of attacking this insidious disorder for the purpose of removing it as a source of danger to the body politic. To judge from superficial manifestations nothing short of a surgical operation that will completely sever the growth from the public limb, upon which it invariably fastens itself, would seem to be able to stay its ravages, for the political virus which it injects into the arterial veins of the community is of such a character that only the complete elimination of the poison can result in a cure—all of which is very strange indeed, for there really is a remedy, and a simple one at that. In the interests of taxpaying communities everywhere where we take pleasure in presenting it, unselfishly relinquishing for the benefit of the state all our right, title and interest in the profits of our great discovery.

The Remedy.

Take one atom of common-sense, mix with a little foresight, and boil in a solution of experience, either your own or that of somebody else, and apply to the affected part.

This remedy applied to that phase of municipal life which manifests itself in a determination of the municipal rights, and a sudden loss of power, together with a swelling of the taxbillous ducts, will cause this parasitic graft to disappear, with a corresponding return of corporate health.

The Spread of the Disease.

We have sometimes wondered if our readers have ever taken the trouble to note how widespread the mortality of municipal plants is. If it were confined to a single locality, or to several adjacent communities placed in a specified section of the United States, we might reach the conclusion that there were certain kinds of soil in which the municipal plant could not be expected to thrive any more than peaches could be made to grow in the Arctic, or anything resembling the night-blooming cereus in the hectic atmosphere of a root garden, but this is not the case. We are constantly in receipt of obituary notices from Georgia as well as from Ontario; from Indiana as well as from California; from British Columbia as well as from Texas; and from Iowa and Florida alike. Indeed, a map of the Union shows the grave yard of ruined municipal hopes by means of small dots placed over the points of dissolution if hung up on the office walls of a country hotel in the summer time, would give rise to serious misgivings in the breast of visitors who were timid on the score of flies, and had not the courage to remain and ascertain if its freckled aspect recorded defunct municipal plants or the sudden onslaught of a germ-laden swarm of household pests.

There is nothing sporadic about these demises—they are chronic, unsegregated, and inevitable.

Crossed Wires.

Pretty nearly everybody is aware of the dangers arising from crossed wires, but O ye gentle reader, did you ever pause long enough to reflect upon the menace involved in the crossing of your public-utility wires with those manipulated by the politicians? This kind of crossing has brought trouble wherever it has been tried.

In Canada through the operation of the hydro-electric adventurings of Ontario it has destroyed the Canadian's right to appeal against injustice to the courts of the land, a right which has been vested in the individual for centuries. In Scotland it has resulted in connection with the public-service operations of Glasgow in an absurd juggling of figures for the gratification of the politicians, who as ever insisted upon an innocent investor by means of promoters whose only possession in any way resembling gold is the shining brass of their own effrontry. In the East, North, South and West of our own fair United States it has left in its trail a succession of ruins in the shape of abundant municipal plants alongside of which the moss-covered walls of the fallen feudal castles of the Rhine are pictures of health and vitality; and everywhere it has encouraged that devilish thirst of weak humanity for the acquisition of something for nothing that enriches none but the grafting politicians, and fattens naught but the inevitable bill for taxes through which the community ultimately is forced to pay the piper.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poor Philosopher.

The early fly's the one to swat. It comes before the weather's hot, and sits around and flies its legs, and lays at least ten million eggs, and every egg will bring a fly to drive us crazy by and by. Oh, every fly that skips our swatters will have five millions sons and daughters, and countless first and second cousins, and aunts and uncles, and godfathers, and godmothers, and ironworkers, who have no cause to complain of low wages or long hours of labor or anything else, shall engage in a sympathetic alliance.

Emma defines the meaning of sabotage. She says it's mainly concerned with obstructing by every possible method the regular process of production. For instance, at the time of the French railroad strike in 1910 perishable goods were sent in slow trains or in an opposite direction from the one intended. Another form of sabotage consisted, during this strike, in placing heavy boxes on goods marked "Handle with care," cut glass and china and precious jewels. From the standpoint of common humanity this was a very sensible thing. The same is true of disarranging a loom in a weaving mill. . . . Sabotage is merely a weapon of defense in the industrial warfare," she says, "which is the more effective because it touches capitalism in its most vital spot, the pocket."

Another weapon of syndicalism is the general strike. The general strike means that when the workers in a brickyard, for instance, strike for higher wages, then all the masons, carpenters, and painters, and plumbers, and teamsters, and ironworkers, who have no cause to complain of low wages or long hours of labor or anything else, shall engage in a sympathetic alliance.

Another weapon of syndicalism is the general strike means that when the workers in a brickyard, for instance, strike for higher wages, then all the masons, carpenters, and painters, and plumbers, and teamsters, and ironworkers, who have no cause to complain of low wages or long hours of labor or anything else, shall engage in a sympathetic alliance.

The part allotted to the farmers by syndicalism is to provide the workers with food supplies during strikes and to take care of the strikers' children. So far there has not been any great rush of farmers to become syndicalists. The hard-hearted agriculturists in Southern California have been, when a bottle-nosed syndicalist appeared at the front gate, more inclined to loosen the bulldog than the kitchen door. In San Diego especially has syndicalism received discouragement. There Miss Goldman was assured that her absence would be very precious, and her gentleman friend and agent has stern remembrances of the treatment he received.

Home Remedy for Eczema

From our experience as druggists in this community, we can recommend, as an absolutely reliable remedy for skin diseases, the D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema, made in the D.D.D. laboratories in Chicago. This is an ideal home remedy for it has the advantages of being a convenient wash, easy to apply and positively harmless, to the most tender skin.

D.D.D. gives instant relief from the irritating itch, it penetrates the pores and reaches the root of the disease immediately. Just a 50c bottle will convince you of this.

We advise every skin sufferer to have D.D.D. Prescription always on hand. Of course all druggists sell it to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept a big profit substitute.

However, if you come to our store, we have so much confidence in this mild antiseptic wash that we will guarantee the first full-size bottle to do away with your trouble.

Let us also tell you about D.D.D. soap.

VOTE OR GO TO JAIL.

City Club Proposes Law Penalizing the Person Who Neglects to Cast His Ballot.

You must vote or go to jail, or else pay a fine commensurate with the character of the offense, under the proposed law, which the City Club proposes to have the State statutes.

A resolution was introduced at yesterday's session of the City Club providing that the Legislation Committee shall frame a law of that character.

The resolution holds that those who are without just excuse and refrain from voting are morally culpable and should be made answerable to the law. It was provided that a proper draft of a law be worked out by the committee.

William Allen White, Kansas journal, politician and shining light of the progressives, was the speaker, and began by throwing highly-scented bouquets at Southern California.

He declared that Southern California is destined to have a civilization unique in the world—where people don't have to work too hard to live and have creature comforts.

"The Lord has been mighty good to you, and you've been doing considerable for yourselves," is the way White sized up the situation.

He declared that the nineteenth century saw the rise of the great aggregations of capital necessary for development of the country's resources, but that their like the barons and the lords of former eras, must be regulated, and that the present century will be the era of the working man; that the great result will be that no man will be asked to work for a wage below that on which he can comfortably exist.

Speaking of the work of reformers, White declared: "Every man has one privilege—to make his private opinion public opinion. We need them all. Lord knows what would happen if we were all progressives. We need the reactionaries. No platform can be built that would be good five years from now, and no one man or set of men hold all the wisdom of the earth."

Capt. Fredericks said that Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ford will continue to look after grand jury matters and control the prosecution of persons connected with vice conditions.

BACK AT HIS POST.

Capt. Fredericks Returns to Office After Several Weeks Absence Because of Severe Operation.

Bronzed by outdoor life and full of vigor, Capt. Fredericks was on duty yesterday after a considerable absence. He was obliged to undergo an operation and it took some time to regain his full strength. He will be on hand every day from now on. During his absence he consulted frequently with his deputies and directed operations.

"It seems good to be in the harness again," said he, "yet a vacation albeit an enforced one, is good for any man. I find many things piled up on me but I kept in constant touch with the office and have some fine secretaries to help me."

Capt. Fredericks said that Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ford will continue to look after grand jury matters and control the prosecution of persons connected with vice conditions.

Unity. WILL JOIN NEW HOME WITH OLD.

MANY MEET AND GREET AGAIN AT HOUSE-WARMING.

Federation of State Societies Holds Well-Attended Reception in Honor of Opening of New Quarters. Representatives of Every State Join in Celebration.

The house-warming reception at the new home of the Federation of State Societies, No. 357 West Seventh street, proved an event yesterday in point of attendance. Representatives and visitors from every State in the Union were on hand during the afternoon and evening to join hands in the union of good fellowship, fraternity and patriotism, aims to preserve the tender memories, the tried friendships of the old-home State—friends being among the chief objects of the organization. The attendance increased as the day wore on, and in the evening the new home of all State societies was gay with lights and laughter and song.

The three large halls of the buildings were decorated with State pennants, emblems and banners, and showers of flowers from the sunny slopes of California's own hills and mountain verdure represented in a variety of the broideries of the lives of the people of other States with the life of this one. The tall palm trees which guard the doorway of the Federation's home were strung with electric lights, glistening through the leaves, and the windows were thronged with visitors. Men and women passed a word of the old home town over a teacup, in the halls where refreshments were served, and then wandered through the rooms surveying the house which is to link all together in future.

Behind the band came the unforgotten minstrels, the singing of their "R-r-r-rap" went the warning roll, up were the hand in signal, and the stirring strains of "The Star-Spangled Banner" filled the air.

Then the band came the unforgotten minstrels, the singing of their "R-r-r-rap" went the warning roll, up were the hand in signal, and the stirring strains of "The Star-Spangled Banner" filled the air.

And then Bill, the young editor, the crowd and the veterans and the music of the band, ceased murmuring of pines and the roar of a stream that still could be heard from country place here and there.

Bill did not know that weakness was more responsible for this; he had been a different boy for more than a year.

Silently he watched the veteran until he suddenly spoke.

"That looks like the boy himself again, but no one else in the world," he said.

"Well, by God!" was the exclamation of surprise, as he brushed his hair back.

"Dad," for he remembered his name, "you're here." He was charged with having obtained money under false pretenses. The evidence showed Al Dutcher bought a lot up in the neighborhood of the street where he was to be shot at. W. W. Williams, attorney for defendant argued that it was a case for civil action. The court took this view.

The Federation purchased its new home, which was formerly the Brownberger Business College, last January at a cost of $100,000. It is to be used principally to hold the meetings and social affairs of the various State societies, of which there are twenty-four in the Union.

Heretofore these meetings have been held at any public hall which might be obtained for the event. The societies had no establishment which could call their own.

NATURE STORIES.

Fox Mothers a Lamb.

[New York Sun:] An example of fox mothers' instinctive behavior, not far from Paris. The owner of a herd of sheep found among the flock a lamb which seemed to have a little chance of life. In order to get rid of it he took it to a neighbor who kept a fox which had an especially liking for lambs. The mite and eloquent language of their wagging tails, the humbie appeal in their eyes, were at once amusing and pathetic.

A few hours afterward the shepherd returned to see the fox and great was his surprise to find Reynard lying down holding the poor little lamb in his paws, keeping it warm and affectionately licking its face. The lamb was apparently taken out of the cage and in little time it was running about the place as happy as any of its kind.

Now the owner does not know whether to give the fox credit for his humane instincts or to believe that he was merely waiting until his prey grew large and fat enough to make a meal of it.

Told All Their Friends.

[Harper's Weekly:] The fact that dogs have a way of communicating news to one another was demonstrated in a very singular and amusing fashion in a certain district in London, where as yet little provision is made for the comfort of domestic animals.

One bitter night, such as "cold waves" frequently bring to that locality, a Georgian heard at his front door the unmistakable sounds of scratching and whining. He found upon opening the door, that his neighborhood friends, a pug and a little terrier, asking admission.

If Wagner stayed too long at his work, Peps would remind him that it quarters of the two household dogs. In the morning they took their leave; but great was the astonishment of the Georgian to see them return the following cold evening, this time accompanied by a large Irish setter, who likewise wagged admission to the door of which he had no knowledge.

If there were any doubts as to whether these hospitable night lodgers were discussed among the shelterless dogs of the neighborhood, the doubts were removed on the third night, when the three tramps returned, the number further augmented by an amiable pigmy dog pointer.

The mite but eloquent language of their wagging tails, the humbie appeal in their eyes, were at once amusing and pathetic.

With his own two pets and these five tramps the Georgian had now four dogs at his door, and before his dining-room grate; but their irreproachable behavior and many ingratiating ways had insured for them a welcome at his house as long as the cold wave lasted, which was a week. After the cold subsided they returned no more.

Wagner's Dog Friends.

[Portland Oregonian:] Wagner, the great musical composer, had several dog friends. At one time, in Vienna, he had a dog named Pol, and at another time one called Leo, whom he had saved from drowning. But his greatest friend was Peps, who was his companion for thirteen years.

Wagner used to say that Peps helped him to compose his famous opera, "Tannhauser."

He said that while he was at the piano singing, Peps, whose place was generally at his feet, would scratch and whine pitifully, and then the musician would say to him, "What! it does not suit you?" and then, shaking the dog's paw, he would say, quoting Jack.

"Well, I will do the bidding gently."

If Wagner stayed too long at his work, Peps would remind him that it was time for a walk. He writes in one of his letters: "I am done up, and must get into the open air. Peps won't leave me in peace and danger."

At the time when almost all the musical world had turned against him, he would sometimes in his walks with the dog declaim aloud against his foes. Then the dog would rush backward and forward, barking and snapping, as if helping his master to defeat his enemies.

When Wagner returned home from an excursion to some other city, Peps would always receive a present as well as other members of the family.

"Peps received them joyfully," he writes to a friend, after one of his excursions.

When the time came for the little life to be ended, Wagner scarcely left his dying dog's side. He even put off two days an important journey because of Peps' illness and death.

Fraeger: "He died in my arms on the night of the 9th, passing away without a sound, quietly and peacefully."

On the morrow we buried him in the garden beside the house. I cried much, and since that hour felt bitter pain and sorrow for the dear friend of the past thirteen years, who even now are those who would scoff at our feelings in such a matter."

Just Like Movies.

Boy Emulates Canned Drama and Steals Saddle Horse to Become Real Bandit—Is Jailed.

After having his youthful imagination fired by witnessing a lurid drama of the plains wherein a horse thief figures prominently, John Hawkins, 14 years old, stole a fine horse, saddle and bridle, yesterday from a ranchman in the San Fernando Valley.

The horse was missed and word sent to the Sheriff's office.

Harry Wright was assigned to the case.

Hawkins was found in a vacant field gravely going through some evolutions in which the horse played an unwilling part. He said he wanted to become a moving-picture actor and "borrowed" the horse until he saved enough money to buy one of his own.

John Jude Wilson will be asked to settle the destiny of the young would-be actor tomorrow.

Federal District Attorney's Letter on Disgraced Lawyer Thompson's Request for Pardon to Go.

By reason of trustworthy representations made to United States District Attorney McCormick, in regard to Fred H. Thompson's health, it is probable the letter to be forwarded this week to the Department of Justice, giving the recommendations of the District Attorney on the petition of Thompson asking for his pardon, will contain views indicating that mercy will not be opposed from this direction.

This will be done not because of any sympathy with Thompson, so far as his sentence of eight years for taking the $15,000 stolen post office money from Orlando F. Altore is concerned. The justice of that judgment is universally acknowledged, but for the sole reason that Thompson has been in failing health ever since the amputation of his leg.

The plight of the disgraced attorney indicates that it does not pay to be stubborn when facing a charge in the United States District Court where a conviction is morally certain.

There was a time when he might have hoped a sentence within the government would not have resulted on a severe judgment, but Thompson refused to plead guilty. He could not be advised, though he knew he had no defense.

Trial of State Society Gatherings Arranged for This Week—Badgers Will Organize.

The Pennsylvania State Society of Southern California will meet at Fraternal Brotherhood Hall on Tuesday evening, for which a special program of music and recitation has been prepared, after which there will be dancing and cards.

A meeting will be held tomorrow evening by the Wisconsin people at the Balboa Hotel, West Seventh street, to consider a local organization.

The New England Society will meet on Thursday evening at the rooms of the Church Federation. D. L. Durand will deliver a lecture entitled "The Story of Gettysburg." The election will also be held.

M. Lewis of New York, a diamond expert and buyer for various concerns, is at the Alexandria for a few days, having been on vacation and expects to visit San Diego and San Francisco while in the West.

BUSY FOR AN OFF YEAR.

At Least Three Men Are Busy Securing the Appointment of Judge at Santa Ana.

SANTA ANA, May 24.—No less than three men are in a red-hot race for an office. The leading candidate is a man from Orange county, and the other is agitating a number of people in the city. John J. Johnson has the appointment of judge, and he has the position to hold the office in election in November, 1914, to decide whether or not he shall be in the office or give way to some other man.

There are at least three progressive attorneys who are in the race, which will pay a salary of $10,000. These three are S. M. Davis, E. H. Thomas and Joseph F. Davis of Santa Ana. Their friends have known for some time that the appointment was coming, and some careful planning has been done. The first to get in the Progressive who got out of the public County Central Committee and secured a good number of votes to a statement recently made by Gov. Johnson, said that Davis has also been getting many promises from among prominent men of the county. Thomas and his friends have been quietly watching the situation out, and that Davis has considerable backing in return.

Babies and blue prints, diets and designs are the contrasting interests of Mrs. Eugenie D. Porter, an interesting mother and manager who has recently amazed experienced contractors by her untutored skill in planning, designing and constructing a $70,000 apartment-house without the advice or assistance of a professional architect.

Her most recent work, built at

No. 150 North Hill street, is but one of eight apartment-houses that Mrs. Porter has constructed. In each she drafted the first rough plan, drew the designs, prepared the blue-print drawings, and called in the contractors to work under her direct supervision.

"The Stevens" recently completed, is the first brick apartment-house ever built in Southern California by a woman who did not make building her profession.

Mrs. Porter has but one of her various accomplishments, but is so practical and rare in its application that it has attracted widespread interest among the builders in the city.

OTHER INTERESTS.

With a young daughter, she is tutoring along educational lines that are original with her, with musical studies to which she devotes more than an hour each day. Mrs. Porter finds time to accomplish the most tedious studies of architecture, in spite of the fact that she is a widow.

It is reported that Mrs. Porter has designed and built a large apartment house, which will be let at work on a blue print.

"DIPLOMACY"

AT MOROSCO.

Famous Old Play Made Stars of Many.

"Lonesome Town" at Lyceum For Week.

Julius Steger Headliner of Orpheum Bill.

One of the most interesting events of the current week is the elaborate revival at the Morosco Theater, beginning this afternoon, of Sardou's masterpiece, "Diplomacy." Besides the regular matinee performances on Thursday and Saturday, there will also be a special matinee performance on Friday, Decoration Day.

"Diplomacy" is recognized as one of the greatest plays that the stage has ever known in which some of the foremost actors of our time have achieved fame and it is particularly interesting for the fact that it will show Florence Reed in the remarkable part of Countess Ziche, a role which she originated. Miss Reed's ability and one which will give her uncommonly fine opportunity.

Malcolm Williams will be seen in the role of Baron Stein. Thomas Meighan and others have. The cast includes Julius Steger, who will play Captain Beauchamp. Harrison Hunter will have the part of H. Beauchamp.

To Grace Valentine will be intrusted the important role of Dora, while Lillian Gish will make her first appearance as Lady Henry Fairfax.

The cast throughout for "Diplomacy" will be exceptionally fine one, while the production will be made upon a scale never before attempted. "Diplomacy" will be given for one week only and will be followed by William Gillette's famous success, "The Admirable Crichton."

Lyceum Theater.

Kolb & Dill will this week make their farewell appearance at the Lyceum Theater in a big revival of their most famous musical comedy success, "Lonesome Town." The revival of this piece will begin with the former's tour tonight with the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees, there will be a special matinee performance on Friday, Decoration Day.

It is useless to comment at any great length on "Lonesome Town" for it has always been considered as the best music and fun play of Kolb & Dill's entire repertoire and the announcement of its revival will doubtless attract great interest. At every performance, for throughout their engagements here the last two seasons they have been besieged with requests for a revival of the play in which they achieved their greatest fame as German comedians.

"Lonesome Town" will again show C. William Kolb in the role of Chico Charlie in which he makes his wonderful speech on California, a speech that is well received with pleasure by those who saw Kolb and Dill in "Lonesome Town" a few seasons ago, while Max Dill will again play his celebrated Bakersfield Phil, with Sydney Deane in the role of the tramp, Jimmie Green.

Miss Gardner will be seen to splendid advantage as I. M. Wise, the promoter, Albert Kelly will make his first appearance in the part of Miriam Diggie, the Comptroller of Water, while Bud Dunn will also make his appearance with the Kolb and Dill organization as Louanne Diggie, proprietress of the Hotel Waita, while the chief feminine roles will be in the hands of Vilma Stech, Laura Oakley and Fannie Yantis.

Burbank.

William C. De Mille's stirring drama of romance and politics, "The Woman," has proved such a genuine popular success that the demand for seats has been of such uncommonly large proportions that the play will be continued for one more week, beginning this afternoon, with a special matinee performance on Friday, Decoration Day.

"The Woman" quite the best play that has come to the native stage in recent years, while the production at the Burbank and the performance by the Burbank company has been unanimously declared by the critics and public alike as the finest they have ever given.

Frances Ring has scored a distinct success in the role of Wanda Kelly, the plucky little telephone girl, who refuses to come through with any information, while the same may be said of the splendid performance of the role of Grace Robertson as played by Grace Travers.

David M. Hartford as the hero, Jim Black, has his part since the days of "The Lion and the Mouse," with James Corrigan as Tim Neilligan, Forrest Stanley as Mark Robertson, Margaret Wallace, Herschel Mayall and Walter Edwards share honors in the remaining minor roles.

Emerson's production is an unusually fine one throughout. The second week of "The Woman" will positively be the last, Charles Chaplin's fine new farce, "C. O. D." being scheduled as the next Burbank production.

Mission Play.

Only six days remain to see the Mission Play by John Steven McGroarty at the Mission Playhouse in San Gabriel. This splendid drama of the Franciscan enterprise in California offers remarkable scenes and story three weeks June 1. A short season will be given in San Francisco at one of the down-town theaters, beginning the middle of August.

Those who have not yet witnessed a production by Mr. McGroarty's play of early California should do so now, as it is very uncertain when it will again be produced in Southern California.

Dorothy: Oh, doctor! (holding his hand.)

Emerson (very tense, closer to Balzano): You took Dr. Emerson's wife away with you. (Balzano won't speak.) His instinct, though asleep, is self-preservation. (Emerson speaks.) Speak! I want to know everything about Balzano (stubbornly): I won't be.

Emerson: All right. She is gone. (He passes by her, holding Dorothy's hand.) Dorothy: Oh, doctor! (holding his hand.)

Emerson (very tense, closer to Balzano): You took Dr. Emerson's wife away with you. (Balzano won't speak.) His instinct, though asleep, is self-preservation. (Emerson speaks.) Speak! I want to know everything about Balzano (stubbornly): I won't be.

Emerson: All right. She is gone. (He passes by her, holding Dorothy's hand.) Dorothy: Oh, doctor! (holding his hand.)

Dorothy sinks into chair.) You tried a long time under Swart's name.

CASE OF BECKY PSY HIC PLAY.

Frances Starr Sensation in Dual Roles.

Excerpts From Script Give Graphic Insight.

Like Blend of Trilby and Jekyll and Hyde.

"The Case of Becky" Edward Locke's sensational play which begins a week's engagement at the Mason tomorrow night, is aptly described as a harlequin of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" and "Trilby." There lurks in it the fascination of a serpent, and the battle of Dr. Emerson to kill the bad personality, "Becky," and save Dorothy through the power of hypnotism, is rated as one of the dramatic sensations of the decade. Frances Starr plays this dual role with telling effect.

Arnold, who loves Dorothy, is prepared to sacrifice her.

Dorothy is the good girl, while Becky, who forms the other half of Miss Starr's dual role and is ever striving to gain the upper hand, is wicked.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS

BY SYDNEY FORD.

ME programmes at the Friday Morning Club last week concerned Japanese art, and a more delightful speaker has not appeared before the club this year than Katherine M. Hall of San Francisco, who, dressed in picturesque Japanese costume, gave an illustrated lecture on Japanese prints and their service to art education.

Miss Hall was art supervisor of the San Francisco schools as long as ten years ago and I am not sure but she holds the same position now. Anyhow, she is considered an authority on Japanese prints and just from her address, I should imagine she might have had on any kind of art, for she certainly has the gift of explaining in a most logical and satisfactory way the inwardness of real art education which she holds, does not consist in simply a knowledge of the history of art, but must needs be of such quality, so direct, one-to-one, that art galleries of the world with a just and true appreciation of all they contain. Art education, she says, means that we must learn and think of art as a means of expression—a language, indeed, where alphabet is line, and form and color; whose words are conventions, and whose sentences paragraphs are combinations of conventions. Greek art, medieval art and oriental art all have different sets of conventions and designs, and in order to understand them, we must understand these different conventions.

"Japanese prints," said Miss Hall, "express a certain art—not a mere imitation. It is really a matter of psychology. We all know how much better we feel and appear when we know we are well dressed, and how environs affect a body of people. Vertical lines, for instance, always inspire; we feel it when we walk through a forest of tall trees and that is the reason why the lines of cathedrals are all vertical. Now circles express limitation, and red colors excite, whereas blue calms and pacifies. Japanese prints embody certain principles and conventions which are perhaps most easily detected by the principles and principles given us by Delacroix and which are applicable to all the arts—parallelism, opposition and succession—and this last is the greatest of the three in that it involves transition, progress, radiating line and color, of which the best example is the rainbow, where one color radiates from another.

We like the colors of the sunset. It is really a matter of psychology. We all know how much better we feel and appear when we know we are well dressed, and how environs affect a body of people. Miss Hall then proceeded to throw on the various phases of Japanese prints arranged with reference to these principles—landscapes, flowers, birds, animals and figures. She pointed out that the conventions of Chinese and Japanese art assume that the landscapes are seen from an airship or the sky and that, in oriental art, a few strokes mean much in suggestion and must be studied, like a rug.

After her skillful diagnosing and discussion of art education, I am sure everyone in the audience, which quite filled the big auditorium, felt richer and more in touch with the art of the Orient.

Japan Guests at French.

The programme of the Friday Morning Club was arranged by Mrs. Randall Hutchinson, chairman of the Art Committee, and she entertained a large number of guests at the luncheon which followed, chief of whom was a young Japanese student of the University of Southern California who will graduate from that institution next month—K. Sakai, who has a large collection of valuable Japanese prints which he inherited from his ancestors, and specimens of which were hung upon the walls of the dining-room. Some in his possession are so rare and precious that he keeps them in the vault of one of the banks and he holds in his hand a few of those which he exhibited as he talked, in a short after-luncheon speech.

Another speaker was the Japanese member, Mrs. Miyakawa, who came here with an open branch of the Japanese Specie Bank. He was accompanied by his wife, who also sat at the president's table.

Other guests included Prof. and Mrs. George Raymond, Mrs. E. B. Tamm, ex-president of the San Francisco Normans, and Mrs. Anna Hall, a member of the same club; Mrs. Gill Ladd, a girlhood friend of Mrs. Hutchinson, and an art critic who has written on many art subjects at national exhibitions.

Mrs. Phillips, a friend of Prof. and Mrs. Hutchinson, and an art critic who has written on many art subjects at national exhibitions.

Miss Winona, first vice-president of Shell, and Mr. P. C. Cotter, J. B. Kippincoff and Edwin Easton.

Expression Department Classes.

The Shell department of expression of which Mrs. William Read is chairman, last week closed the series of monthly meetings which have been conducted throughout the club year by a certain group intent on analytical study of Emerson's works.

Some of the deepest thinkers in the club have identified themselves with this section and have greatly enjoyed and profited by the much discussion afforded.

In contradistinction to the atmosphere which pervades the average women's club of today, this little group of women identified themselves with the section for the express purpose of discussing themselves for a couple of hours each month to exchange ideas on purely literary topics.

The art of true oratory was discussed at the closing meeting and Mrs. Josie B. Gwynne gave a brief talk on the speaking voice which was excellent. She did not speak so loud; we cannot hear her, one of her paradoxical utterances which emphasized the fact that it is not volume but purity of sound that counts. She pointed out that whereas speech is a prose, and song the poetry of vocal sound, the soul should be cultivated as much and as carefully as the other. She advanced the theory too, that deep breathing will not only cure blues but will induce deep thinking, while shallow breathing will tend to shallow thinking.

Miss Phoebe Holtzman, who was a personal friend of Wendell Phillips, made a most interesting talk on the eloquence of the great orators, and Mrs. Ruth spoke of the eloquence of such Irish orators as O'Connell and Henry Grattan.

Book Presidents to Receive.

Mrs. William L. Jones, president of Shell, has issued invitations to a reception to be held at the clubhouse in honor of the committees and departments of Shell for the afternoon of June 11 from 3 until 5 o'clock.

Another Reciprocity Day.

The Tuesday Afternoon Club will observe reciprocity day next Tuesday when delegates from other organizations will be their guests at California Hall, corner of Thirtieth and Main streets. Dr. Dana Bartlett and Mrs. Margaret Morris will speak, and Marguerite Goodwin and Mrs. Eleanor Myott will sing and play. The club members will also have something to say and tea will be served.

End of Club Year.

Club will close this month. Indeed, all of the various sections have already held their final sessions for the club year, three having finished last week—the department of expression held its last meeting on Tuesday, the department of art and drama on Wednesday, and the drama department on Thursday.

Next Tuesday will witness the last meeting of the Shakespeare section and will conclude this year's work under Dr. Paul Gordon, director.

There will be several recreation meetings and frolics during next month by the different departments.

Mrs. C. Q. Stanton will entertain the art and travel section on June 18 at her Hermosa Beach home—a pleasant summer home she has established on the beach.

There will be a general session for several weeks.

Fires on Berlin.

Since the eyes of the world are just now focused on Berlin on account of the wedding festivities of the Kaiser's only daughter, the address of Mrs. R. J. Richardson, a native of Berlin, will be of interest.

Richardson, who is interested in Berlin to a great interest the other day at the art and travel meeting at Shell. She gave a most delightful and vivid picture of this city, said to be the best governed in the world, while the people are the most hospitable.

How she met Miss Ball.

She will meet June 18 at the leadership of Mrs. W. S. Bellott, which will follow.

New President Speaks.

Preliminary to the Friday Morning Club programme, Mrs. Russell J. Waters gave a chatty, informal, but very complete report of the Fresno convention of women's clubs.

Her little speech was illuminated with flashes of wit and pleasantness and she made an excellent impression as the president of the club.

The Strickland Home, which is doing a similar work in a more limited way, owes its existence to the sympathetic hearts of Mr. Jacob Strickland and his wife, Julia Strickland. It is located on a five-acre land. It may stand as one of the nearly forty boys of the home as "Uncle" and "Auntie" Strickland. The latter began by giving two boys who needed it a roof over their heads, and gradually increased the amount of the institution which cares for an ever-increasing number drawn from the Juvenile Court. So highly does Judge Wilson appreciate the work that is being done for the boys that he has sent to the treasury a check for $100.

The Strickland Home auxiliary has the following officers: Mrs. William H. Mackay, president; Mrs. D. E. Luther, financial secretary; Mrs. Ralph Noyes, recording secretary; Mrs. L. A. Peters, vice-president and Dr. Olive Lewis, trustee.

In the absence of Mrs. Alice Gregory, Mrs. Luther gave a brief sketch of the two homes and the good work each does. An informal musical programme followed. Mrs. Edgar Fey contributed several piano numbers; Mrs. E. H. Emmett sang a charming spring song and responded to an encore; Miss Winona powders, and brushes, and hand-mirrors, and combs, not a single hairpin could be discovered. The club women were appealed to singly and in groups, by the distressed maid of honor, to help find the missing hairpin. The search through purses, pockets and handbags was thorough and persistent.

Handyman.

There came near being a panic at the Friday Morning Club last week when the speaker of the day, Miss Katherine Ball, was unable to speak. She told in the dressing-room behind the scenes—and all for lack of a simple thing as a bunch of hairpins.

Now anyone who knows anything at all about it knows that it takes a lot of hairpins to dress one's hair la Japanese, and when the shortage of the little wire necessities was discovered a distress signal was hoisted and a hurry call sent forth.

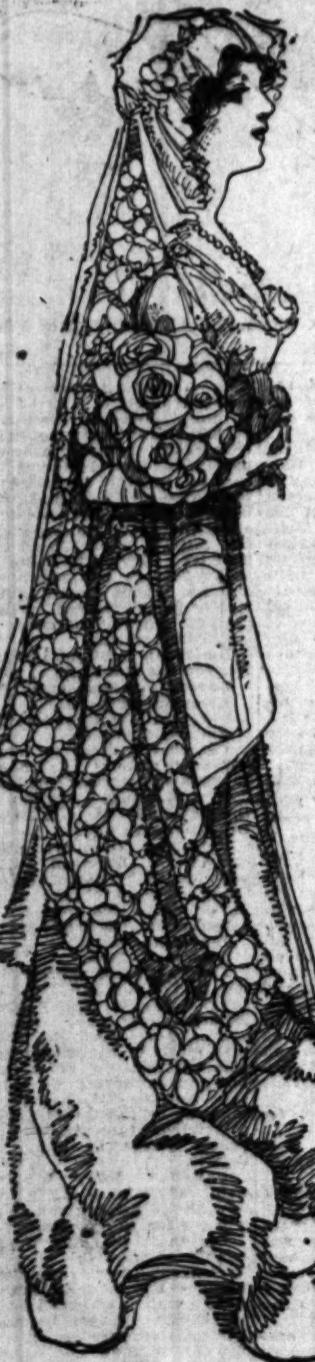

In all that building, with its immaculate dressing-rooms where there are Ruskin Art Club.

Mrs. W. B. Brown was in charge of the Wednesday programme of the Ruskin Art Club which dealt with French poetry of the sixteenth century.

Mrs. J. W. Nethersole told of the life of Olivier Baseman whose gay songs and poems in literature, Mrs. C. D. Davis gave an account of the works of Alain Chartier, an important figure in the politics of his day—his patriotic poems and treatises being held in high esteem. Miss Lucy Marks spoke of the life of Charles of Orleans who

At the close of the lesson Madame de Zellinska read to the club several sonnets of the modern French poet, Jose-Maria de Heredia.

Bowels Get Weak As Age Advances

The First Necessity Is to Keep the Bowels Gently Open With a Mild Laxative Tonic.

Healthy old age is so absolutely dependent upon the condition of the bowels that care should be taken to see that they act well. The fact is that as one advances the stomach muscles become weak and inactive and the liver does not store up the juices that are necessary to protect digestion.

Some help can be obtained by eating easily digested foods and by plenty of exercise, but this latter is irksome to most elderly people. One thing is certain, that a state of constipation should always be avoided, as it is dangerous to life and health. The best plan is to take a mild laxative as often as is deemed necessary. But with equal certainty it is suggested that cathartics, purgatives, salts and pills be avoided, as they are temporary good and are so harsh as to be a shock to a delicate system.

A much better plan, and one that thousands of elderly people are following, is to take a gentle laxative-tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Peppermint, which acts as nearly like nature as is possible. In fact, the tendency of this remedy is to strengthen the stomach muscles and so train them to act naturally again, when medicines of all kinds cannot be dispensed with. This is the opinion of many people of different ages, among them G. P. Miller, Baroda, Mich., who writes: "I am 80 years old and have been constipated for many years. Since receiving your sample bottle I have procured two 50-cent bottles and mailed you.

MR. G. P. MILLER.

find that it is the best remedy I ever used and does just what you claim for it to the very letter. I cannot recommend it too highly."

A bottle can be bought of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar. People usually buy the 50-cent size first, and then, having convinced themselves of its merits, buy the dollar size, which is more economical. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. Any elderly person can follow these suggestions with safety and the assurance of good results.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Peppermint and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal card do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington street, Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

There will also be photographs taken of the children showing scientific subjects of great interest to the nature study department has offered a prize for the best of these.

The nature study department, consisting of the principal representatives of the schools without exception of them—will be the committee to look after the guests, constituting themselves guides to the visitors.

There will also be photographs taking.

Within doors, beautifully colored posters, showing birds and animals, flowers and trees, illustrating the subjects of the children's study, will be hung on the walls and raised beds, to be made by the children, will be exhibited on tables, showing sanitation conditions in different parts of the city. Mrs. Myers will put an burnt cork and train his hair with curl papers for the part of Levantine, a jolly, lazy, good-for-nothing darky. John Butler Kilpatrick, "Frankie," Sunnarcharrub Poppy" will be played by John Fletcher. Bobby Turner will be "Scotch McAllister" and Bill Large, a shorty, "Lone Wolf," and Bill Don, will sing "Ain't I a Man?" The "College Girl" will be played by Alice Jim Channing, the heroine, who comes from Mr. Peabody's wrath; Orrie Lester, Cumbers, the butler; Lore Smith, Sarah the maid. The second play entitled "Saved" will show a gay country boy who sings with the jolly Indians. George H. Mason, who is a naturalized American, will be "Trotter," the Englishman, who is a scoundrel. HER HANDS AND ARMS
MADE MARVELOUSLY
BEAUTIFUL IN A SINGLE NIGHT

FREE PRESCRIPTION DID IT.

Camille de Verne says: "Had anyone told me such wonderful results could be obtained so easily, I wouldn't have believed it. My arms and hands were covered with tan and freckles; my neck was dark and ugly from the use of sun collar. All these distresses were obliterated by one application of a free prescription, which I am pleased to give to anyone. It is just as effective as any other. Go to any drug store and get a one-ounce bottle of Kulum Compound. Pour the entire contents into a two-ounce bottle, add one ounce water. Prepare this prescription at your own home. Apply night and morning. It makes the skin soft and beautiful. Not only hands and neck red it makes. One application will delight you. I have given this prescription to thousands of women and they are all equally enthusiastic as I am. Try it on your face, neck and shoulders and you will be agreeably surprised. It is deliciously cool and soothing, and it will not rub off." (Advertisement.)

News of the Week.

Take a brief half-hour as occur in "A Child of the Jungle." Thomas Santachi, Hobart Bowditch and Frank Clark are also in the cast, and help to make this an extraordinarily interesting picture. There are many other fine pictures included in the programme, the latest Father's Weekly, an Edison trick picture, "Dances of the Ages" and a comedy.

In a class by itself, "The Miracle," a masterpiece of photography, will be the exceptionally attractive feature film at the Mozart Theater, beginning with the matinee today. It is about the same story as the drama done for this wonderful motion picture, which had a run of nine months in London, five months in Berlin, four months in Vienna and now in the several cities of America. It is said that over 5,000,000 people have seen this romantic and enchanting legend, in pictures. The spectator sitting before the screen will be told the secret of the secret to see as the film tell this sweet, pathetic story. This mystery play in pictures is one magnificent spectacle, from the grand procession in the opening reel to the final scene of repentance in the last reel.

Mrs. Bebe Bulfin, with her sweet soprano voice and pleasing song numbers, is proving more entertaining each week, and is distinctly a valuable factor of the "Miracle" program. Mrs. Bulfin's first song for this week will be "Roberta" from "Roberta."

Broadway fans will be flocking to the Broadway theater next week commencing Monday, in order to see the latest pictures of Frank Chance day at Chicago a week ago. An entire reel is devoted to this famous game between the world's best and the New York nine, and all of the more thrilling features are reproduced in the films. It was rushed across the continent as soon as made to W. H. Cline, and he has decided to exhibit it for the days only at his Broadway theater.

The big automobile parade around the grounds in which more than 300 hundred machines took part, with Frank Chance occupying the front seat and followed by President Ban Johnson of the American League; Frank Farrel, president of the Yankees; President Comiskey of the White Sox, and James Callahan, manager.

The original production of "Everwoman" was duplicated. It is now being played in Austria-Hungary and in Sweden.

Australia has seen over two hundred performances of "Everwoman," and it is now to be done in Germany and France. This is the first presentation upon the Pacific Coast.

With all this record of triumph, "Everwoman" was a rejected manuscript and went from manager to manager without a kind word, until it failed to find a producer. It was Walter Brown, who recognized its value and made the original production. Walter Brown, the author, always unlucky, a soldier of fortune who spent ten years upon its construction, died on the morning of the day of its performance, never having seen the realization of his dream.

The play is founded upon the ancient morality play, "Everyman," and resembles it in that every character bears the name of the virtue or vice represented. In this other respect does it support the sixteenth century model. It is the chronicle of the adventures that befell a young and beautiful woman who sets out from her home in search of a fabled King Love, which Flattery, who had appeared in her dreams, had told her to seek. Her quest leads her into strange places.

Her pilgrimage is the play and it is told in five acts.

As a production, Mr. Savage is said to have excelled all previous efforts.

"Everwoman" is declared to be the triumph of his career as a realizer of plays. Over one hundred and fifty people are employed in the artistic and mechanical representations. There is a cast of thirty-seven speakers, and a full symphony orchestra to render the impressive score, which was composed by George Whitefield Chadwick, dean of the New England Conservatory of Music.

Miladi's Cool Frocks
for the Summer Time

Every day new models arrive---exquisite frocks in which artist designers and masters of needlecraft have co-operated to produce effects wholly charming and in conformity with Queen Fashion's latest mandates.

Every woman will enjoy this display of summery frocks. Any shred of prejudice against the ready-to-wear frock will be summarily swept away as the discriminating woman notes their distinctiveness and individuality of design, their fine perfection and the careful attention to detail that marks their finishing.

There's a wealth of variety, too---a chic and becoming frock for every in-and-out-door occasion. Frocks that give you the benefit of the best dressmaking skill with none of the uniform, uncertainty or delay that goes with the made-to-order or the made-under-your-own-supervision processes. In this big department you can find many frocks exactly meeting your requirements---ideally adapted to your own personality. Prices $7.50 to $100.

One and Two-piece Frocks at $15.00

One and two-piece models of linens, rayons, crepes, voiles and lace fabrics in whole-toned or combination effects. Trimmed with lace, embroidery and fancy buttons. Some with touches of sequins, trimming on collar, cuffs and belt.

Fascinating Summer Frocks, $20.00

Models for their individual charm are these combinations of lace and laceings. Beautiful frocks in white or ecru. Most of them are trimmed with imported lace and many have touches of embroidery and embroidered self dots.

Charming Summer Dresses, $25.00

An exquisite collection of dresses of fine Irish, Russian and French linens, cloth d'epagne, imported French rayons and embroidered lace. All the leading pastel and evening tints are included in white or two-toned combinations.

"Ebell" Blouses, $5

Stunningly chic and dainty models that were fashioned in all of $7.50 to $10.00—a galaxy of charming styles.

The fineness and beauty of the materials and the effectiveness with which their well-chosen trimmings are used, impart an air of distinction that makes "Ebell" blouses the choice of the woman who covets individuality as well as uncommon distinction in her apparel. Workmanship is of the highest standard. Every Ebell is draped on a living model to insure absolute flawlessness of fit.

We feature at $5.00 are made of voile and most liked. Other fabrics, beautifully trimmed with Valenciennes, Austrian, Swiss, German lace in white or ecru, embroidery, tiny lace, some show lace and coquettish bows of silk or velvet. Some show lace in Bohemian colors. Styles that open in front or back and have high neck or Dutch necks and sleeves of modish lengths.

BY PAUL VITALE.

(By Special Dispatch.)

PARIS, May 24.—(Special Dispatch.) France is putting her best fighting foot forward in the reorganization of her army and preparation for an eventuality. Of course, now everybody is talking peace, but Europe gave such a yell when Austria and her Balkan neighbors began barking and snapping at each other during the latter part of April and the beginning of the present month that a general shaking up has been ordered in the principal military commands. The most interesting announcement is that which places Gen. Dubail, commanding the Ninth Army Corps, and Gen. Deforges, commanding the Tenth Army Corps, to the Supreme Consul of War in succession to Gen. Meunier and Marion, who have been placed in the reserve. The purpose of the move is to advance men who have seen much service in the handling of large masses of troops who are at the same time strong enough to take an active part in field operations if a great war actually broke out.

Gen. Dubail, now commanding the First Cavalry Division, has been appointed to the command of the Ninth Army Corps, and Gen. Deforges, now commanding the Nineteenth Infantry Division, has been appointed to that of the Sixth Army Corps.

Gen. Dubail, who is in his 43rd year, saw service as a young volunteer in 1870, and has risen to be a distinguished cavalry leader. His conduct of the Tenth Army Corps in the grand manner last autumn was the subject of favorable comment.

TRAGEDY IN PARIS.

An extraordinary tragedy has occurred in Paris, provoked by the love for their child of two parents who had separated. M. Henri Pfeifer de Betouset, a prominent writer and the editor of several reviews, has been living apart from his wife for several years. Then a 2-year-old daughter, Isabelle, became the property of the court, had been confined to his home, and was allowed to visit her twice a week.

Mme. De Betouset, however, appealed to a higher court and obtained judgment appointing her relatives as guardians of the child. When his wife arrived to take the child, M. Pfeifer de Betouset reproached her for her action, and then fired two shots at her with an army revolver. She fell dead, shot through the head. The husband has been arrested.

A doctor at an asylum at Nantes is the proud possessor of Beziers. He stands 5'4 1/2 in. in his booted feet, and in full panoply of leather jacket, gauntlets and spectacles, tips the scale at two hundred and twenty pounds. He drives a special car of the make of his father, a cycle agent—a car which can do twelve miles an hour with ease. Before entering the automobile world, Jean, like many other distinguished motorists, was a devotee of the cycle, which he mounted, yet unbreathed, at the age of 22 months. Aviation will doubtless claim him before his time.

To Dance Her Way Into Popularity in Washington's Society.

measles" which seizes on the young Frenchman in the first year of university life, an illness often accompanied by feverish fits, fits of redness, etc. M. Francois-Poncet's conclusion is, "The youth of Germany today does not resemble the young man of 1830. He does not march in the vanguard towards a future of liberty and consolation. He bends his neck to the yoke, and does not find it gallant to break it."

The youngest chauffeur in France is the proud possessor of Beziers. He stands 5'4 1/2 in. in his booted feet, and in full panoply of leather jacket, gauntlets and spectacles, tips the scale at two hundred and twenty pounds. He drives a special car of the make of his father, a cycle agent—a car which can do twelve miles an hour with ease. Before entering the automobile world, Jean, like many other distinguished motorists, was a devotee of the cycle, which he mounted, yet unbreathed, at the age of 22 months. Aviation will doubtless claim him before his time.

TO PROVIDE FOR PRINCESSES.

Though Daughters of Leopold Lone

Will Contest Belgium Intends to Sustain Them.

(By CARL AND A. F. TO THE TIMES.)

BRUSSELS, May 24.—Although the three daughters of the late King Leopold failed to win their suit against the state in connection with the claim for the entire Congo property left by their father, valued at $14,000,000, the government recognises that they are entitled to some compensation.

An arrangement has been reached between the Minister of Colonies and the Princesses whereby they are to receive a portion of the estate.

The amount has not yet been fixed, but it is understood that it will be approximately $800,000, possibly $1,200,000 to Princess Louise, in which case she will take the form of an attachable life annuity to avoid seizure by creditors.

Frenchman Condemned Fifteen Years Ago Freed When He Tells of His Repentance.

(By CARL AND A. F. TO THE TIMES.)

CARCASSONNE (France), May 24.—

Miguel Vallespi, who recently turned king from the Argentine Republic and gave himself up to the police declared that he wished to go to the guillotine for the murder of his wife fifteen years ago, was given his freedom today.

Vallespi related his story in the Justice Court before a jury and told we would have to wait six months or a year because she died of enteric fever. At last through the help of William J. Bryan, Secretary of State, with the French colonial department has made this possible.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 24.—(Special Dispatch.) Surprise has been occasioned by the semi-official announcement that the Grand Duchess will shortly be promoted heir presumptive to the throne of Russia.

The King of King Peter, who is 69 years old, has broken down, it is understood, as a result of the war with Turkey, and he wishes to end his days in peace among his friends in Switzerland.

BELGIUM'S HEAVY LOSS.

Suffrage Strike Costs State Railways a Million and Four of Astounding Heavy Loss in Traffic.

(NY CALLS AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

THE BRUSSELS (Belgium), May 24.—The state railways of Belgium have had a net loss of $1,000,000 from the ten days strike for equal suffrage in April. Official statistics issued today show that the sum earned in April was $250,000 less than in the same month last year, and to this is added the sum of $450,000, representing the normal annual increase.

The port of Antwerp lost $50,000 tons of trade in April as compared with the same period last year, and 70 fewer vessels called during the strike period.

TO REDUCE AMERICAN WAGE.

Such Should Be Title of the Tariff Bill Which Will Send Abroad Much Money Now Spent in America.

(Philadelphia Press.) The report on the Democratic tariff bill discloses nothing of importance that the bill did not reveal except its frank acknowledgment of the protection destroying principle on which the bill is framed. American industries receive no favor, however slight. On the contrary, Japanese is favored at all times giving them even incidental favors.

The authors of the bill estimate that it will increase imports to twice as much and therefore will pay very much less customs revenue than under the present tariff, and altogether leave a deficit of the income tax of $24,000,000.

The worth of American products that the increased imports will displace? Who will make good to American men and women the wages of those who are thrown out of work? What does the $24,000,000 worth of American goods that the new tariff will throw out of the market?

A very radical change has been proposed, and the public is free to decide to write and stimulate the importation of the products of foreign labor in order that those making the same goods on this side of the ocean may find the full train and stream of foreign labor.

This is expected to bring down the cost of living in this country. What will it be to the thousands who are thrown out of work? What does the bill do for those who have no money at all to pay for them?

What joy does it give a man to find prices reduced if his wages are reduced even more?

How is it explained by American industry? American manufacturers and American workmen will receive and circulate here at home the products of foreign countries. If the American workmen can survive the competition, which this Democratic tariff bill is framed to invite, the wages of American workers, men and women, must come down to the foreign wage scale. On no other basis can our manufacturers compete, and even then only the strongest of this country can survive the competition.

A bill "to reduce American wages and to close American mills" is introduced. With this report before Congress without disguise, naked and unashamed of its un-American purpose to discourage its home industry to encourage in its place and greatly increase the importation to this country of the products of foreign labor.

One day he decided, against his conscience to paint popular pictures, he suddenly gained success and wealth.

BAKERS' FOUTUE.

Famous above all other Russian painters of today, Bakst, in a letter to a St. Petersburg boyhood friend, gives a touching picture of his early struggles. He says that for a long time he had little time to come to paint shop sign and "pot boilers," which he sold, frame included, for a sovereign. One day he decided, against his conscience to paint popular pictures, he suddenly gained success and wealth.

Then he suddenly went back to his earlier ideals and became once more an independent artist. Again he found himself poor, in a few straitened officialdom and the ranks of commonplace, and finally he was expelled from St. Petersburg.

"Not a single person," adds M. Bakst, "protested that it was a shame to the country which I had done my best to glorify throughout the world."

The "tips" outwear the gloves
The Kaiser SILK Glove
is the World's standard silk glove— all other silk gloves are measured by the "KAYSER" standard.
The development of the "KAYSER" Silk Glove represents the attainment of an ideal, the achievement of which has not been hampered by restrictions of cost or time, nor influenced by a passing demand for features most aptly characterized as "talking points."
We could not afford to buy expensive advertising space "year after year," to tell the women of America that "KAYSER" Gloves are the best—in style, fit and finish—if it were not true.
"KAYSER" gloves "cost no more" than the ordinary kind—and are worth double in quality, fit and value.
Don't accept the "just as good" kind, there's a way to tell the genuine—"Look in the Hem"—if you find the name "KAYSER"—you have the kind that "don't wear out" at the finger ends.
A guarantee ticket in every pair.

A DEBUTANTE'S LETTER.

LOS ANGELES, May 25.
Anthony Darling,
What a storm center you are, to be sure! Whenever I hear of you, you are mixed up in some exciting tangle. That impulsive little tongue of yours must be a great responsibility. What does she mean when she makes a preposterous remark about family crests when you knew very well that the C.'s little weakness lies so pronouncedly in that direction?

Of course, we all enjoyed the joke immensely, but I wonder if even the C.'s to lavish any social love upon you in future, now, can you?

But that family crest idea is deliciously ridiculous, isn't it? We told the Englishman that the C.'s were related to the Earl of C. in England, and were entitled to use the crest. They have it on their motor cars, silver, table linen—even, they tell me, on their hats!

Well, the Englishman looked politely surprised. "Then how can he be Mr. C.?" he asked. "for surely the family name of the earlons is Barrington."

All the same, there is something rather attractive about a family crest. If one is entitled to it. Such a subtle way of labeling one's self "extra class"! I wonder if we Americans are of the entire necessity for explaining one's pedigree. I think the Colonial Dames should adopt one forthwith. It would save so much tactful concentration of direction, as it is now. A dress crest for stockings, all creastable spots—handkerchiefs, table linen, cutlery, personal silver, and, of course, the auto, would save any amount of aristocracy. Their present button and badge idea lacks distinction. Too much like plain advertising, almost as vulgar as politics!

Did you hear about our orphanage stunt? All we blushing debutantes and young matrons joined in it, and said that life is a shade too fluffy for us. It has come upon us with a searching of heart that we are not all beautiful enough to do nothing. Incidentally, we can't wait for the arrival of fairy princesses, who would be rather becoming. Anyway, the orphans, bless them, are in for an orgy of attention for the next few months—well, until we leave for Catalina or the mountains, anyway.

What a cat I am. It's a shame to be flippant about it. Really, some of the girls are charmingly earnest and honest, and hope to do good. But one can't help but notice the few who are obviously in it for effect.

"And what are you going to be when you grow up, my dear little girl?" asked the bandaged Englishman. "An ostrich, I know," snapped Tommy feistily. But that was before the debutantes insisted upon "making life happier" for him, poor lad. They are all gone now, and are going to Europe in September for a month, perhaps two. His is to make her debut directly they come back. This, doubtless, is business as usual.

All intents and purposes young Marjory is very much "out" already. She has even attended a couple of large balls, one last season and one this. She often entertains little parties at the country club and elsewhere, in that "finishing" line, and Marjory's name is to have all the very grand-blown debut when she returns from the "finishing" tour, and Marjory's mamma will enjoy that, too.

They will leave Marjory's papa behind to his golf. They always declare that they are a golf widow and orphan—neglected and unloved. Marjory's papa certainly has the golf habit bad. But, as I address Marjory, I see the great compensation against him is that he takes golf with cast iron persistence at home, and with Marjory, with even more indefatigable enthusiasm than on the links. Marjory has been responsible for a tremendous amount of daughterly insufferable conceit.

Yes, darling, some of that was meant for you. Your papa has done his best quota of spoiling for Cherie, although I love you. It is in spite of our outrageous conceit. And yet, I don't know. Perhaps the conceit suits you. It does some people harm, like myself, to have the courage to consider yourself too good for Jim. Dear old Jim, you could not be good enough for him if you tried for years. What he sees in you I can't think. He has doubtless accepted you on your own estimation, for he forced me to extinction with aologie of your charms last night. You better be careful, Tony. He has shown a distinct weakness for my sympathetic company lately, and if I can't get Anthony's charm for another few evenings in patience, my own will be firmly established in their place. So I give you fair warning.

We are still dealing with that little Mrs. E. and her big son. They brought introductions to Mac, and he has taken a proprietary interest in them ever since. She has the quaintest French accent; she may stay with a convent near Brussels, you know, and they were married in Antwerp. When E. died mother and son drifted to Paris and met some old American friends of hers. They suggested the Netherlands, and sent them to Mac with the letter. You never met anything so charming. The boy stands six feet high, although only 20, and his mother looks very much as she must have looked when she left the convent so adventurously twenty-one years ago. Petite, dainty, winsome, roguish, and with it all, so very well bred. The boy worships her, of course. Her mother are quite desirous to have them. There is a subtle something about them that cannot be bought on Broadway.

The mater and pater are back from France, and life is running along drowsily again. Bob and I had any amount of fun while they were away, and amongst other things, tried to reform Aunt Martha. Would you believe it, Tony, she actually thinks you are a nice girl, and held you up to me as such. Oh, you jolly little hypocrite, how did you do it? After that shall regard Jim as legitimate pray.

Your loving BETTY.

Wigs of Spun Glass.
[Spokesman Review:] France seems to be the land where most experiments for making artificial hair are carried on. Not long ago attempts were made to form wigs from certain fibrous plants, the same kind that have served to furnish material for rugs and blinds. By splitting these strands fine and then treating them chemically it was possible to make an artificial hair. But the price was high and the results not satisfactory.

Now successful experiments have proven that it is possible to use spun crystal and reduce it to any shade and texture of human hair.

And the resemblance to the human hair is almost perfect. It is light, also lustrous, and absolutely hygienic.

BARTLET, RECEPTIONS, DINNERINGS AND THE REST.

Mrs. HELEN BURFORD, a happy June bride, who is a sister of delightful gossip, will share honors with Miss Anna Montague of Detroit at an elaborate tennis tea presided over by Miss Florence Bartlett at her palatial home "Vista del Mar," Hollywood. Miss Bartlett, at whose residence Miss Montague is visiting, has planned many entertainments for her fifty guests. The party has been converted into an oriental teahouse and here Mrs. D. H. Collins, assisted by Mrs. Malcolm Crowe and Mrs. Frederick Vogel, will serve tea. Mrs. A. G. Blackford and her charming daughter, Mrs. Cecil Frankel, will make the young entertainer in making the afternoon a pleasant one.

Monday, last, Miss Bartlett entertained with a card party for her house guests, who used in becoming yellow and white dresses. The cards were kept on white cards adorned with a gold crest. The following evening Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Frankel entertained informally with a Dutch supper and dance for the visitor, who plans to return to her home Tuesday.

Another Home.

A dancing party was given last Saturday evening by Mrs. Edgar E. Klausner at her beautiful home, No. 867 Westmoreland place, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Burford, and her fiance, George Gordon. Promised marriage will take place early in June.

Hundreds of colored lights glistened in the wonderful Japanese gardens where the young people strolled between the trees. At nine o'clock an old orange paper was served in the garden. An orchestra furnished delightful music for the dancers. The rooms were artistically decorated with groups of pink cut roses.

Misses Andrus and Hollywood young people present were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Hearn, Misses Mary, L. F. Ferguson, and Mrs. A. R. Burton; Misses Katherine Thompson, Ruth Anderson, Cecilia Badens Cooke, Mabel Clarke, Olive Erdt, Mary Franzheim, Eloise and Sue Dorn, Misses Kallie and the Misses George G. French, Jr., Tom Barrett, Stanley Anderson, Oakley, George Killies, Frank Badgley, W. A. LaDine, Dr. J. Kerman, Palmer of Pasadena, Donald Goodwin, Harold Ferguson, Robert and Ethel Reynolds, Robert and Harold Bugbee, Chester Boddy and Frank Bowman.

Miss Burford was the complimented guest yesterday afternoon at an Arbor party given by Mrs. Alexander H.

Hundreds of Articles in Beautiful Bedroom Furniture Reduced

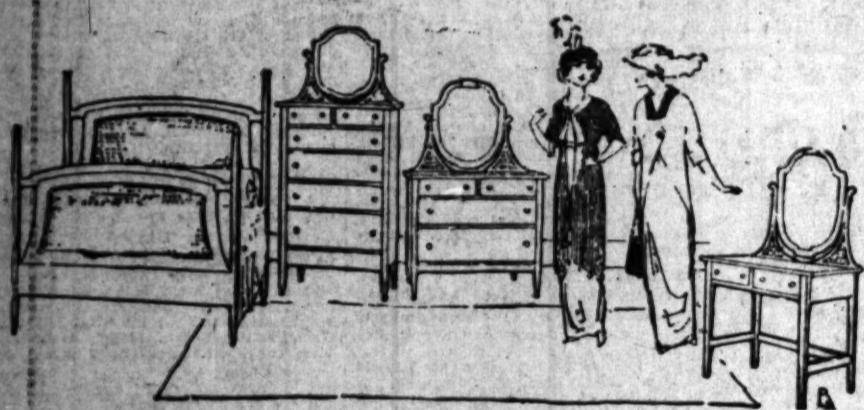

The variety of beautiful bedroom furniture specially priced for this occasion, is notable—for one may hope to find accompanied with the factor of economy, almost any particular style, in wood or finish or design. There are over 1,000 pieces of bedroom furniture in period styles, of faultless quality and character—the very cream, as it were.

This suite shown above is one of the many beautiful suites included and specially priced in this sale. The beautiful and simple lines of this style splendidly copy the faintly Sheraton period furniture, and show a most refined taste. The finish is wonderfully beautiful and the cabinet work is faultless.

Special prices on the several pieces prevail, as follows:

At last, is the PERFECT combination davenport-bed! A sofa by day, and a genuinely comfortable bed at night. A davenport, which, with one simple operation, with one hand, completely opens or closes; and this one movement, opens or closes in under the mattress, bed-mattress and bed-clothes, without moving away from the wall. A davenport-bed, which is simple in construction, entirely free from complicated parts, and one which will not get out of order.

A davenport in which is contained a mattress five times as thick as the ordinary couch-

—a mattress that weighs 35 pounds—a mattress which insures sound sleep and absolute comfort. This davenport-bed holds not only the mattress and bedclothes, but the pillows. As a davenport, all trace of the bed is removed. In use during the day it is a hand-some piece of furniture, perfectly proportioned. And yet it is two complete articles of furniture in one. An additional bed without additional space. Always ready for the unexpected guest. Made in a large variety of styles in the different woods and in a variety of upholstery materials. A general utility, living-room piece which you should see.

Furniture for every use—Carpets, Rugs, Linoleums, Oriental Rugs, Draperies and Upholsteries, Wall Papers, etc.—Mattresses, Linens, Bedding—Stoves, Ranges, Water Heaters—China and Glass Wares, Table Silver, Electrical Appliances, Household and Kitchen Wares.

The advantages of our liberal Credit Plan are offered in connection with our expansion sale, as freely as at other times. The convenience of this accommodation and its helpfulness to those furniture seekers who prefer to pay for their purchases upon an extended basis will certainly be appreciated and taken advantage of by thousands of buyers during the progress of this event. This special feature, together with the extraordinary values which you are now privileged to share, and the splendid service offered when you select home-furnishings at Barker Bros., should prompt YOU, at this time to supply whatever home-furnishing needs you may have.

On Friday, May 30th—Decoration Day—Our Store, Warehouse and All Manufacturing Departments Will Remain Closed—A Mark of Respect for the Occasion

FOR JUNE BRIDES AND MANY OTHERS

The matter of home-furnishing is a very important subject just now with a great many people. This great distribution of worthy furniture and furnishings becomes, therefore, an event not only timely, but worthy of first and most serious consideration. You are privileged in this very unusual underpriced selling, to purchase furniture that is beautiful in every sense—beautiful in itself—beautiful in its relation to the home—beautiful quite likely for its historic sentiment—furniture that impresses you with its very goodness and superiority in all its qualifications—in design, material and finish. It is also furniture that will add real comfort to your home. It is furniture that will make your living-room a place of real rest and enjoyment, your dining room inviting and hospitable, your bedrooms cheerful and pretty, and your porch a place of outdoor pleasure. The variety from which to choose is so large that you can be sure of finding what you desire, and the economy worth while.

Speaking of beauty, brings to mind the coming month—the month of brides. This is a time when the young folks are looking about for things for the new home, and when relatives and friends are thinking about appropriate wedding gifts. It suggests an opportunity both for those who are soon to take up the mission of home-making and for those who wish to participate in a gift way, to purchase with extraordinary satisfaction. This important, far-reaching sale of beautiful furniture, provides the way to secure home-furnishings of the BETTER sorts—that will add charm and luxury, distinctiveness and character to the household environment—at a cost far under the usual outlay—at a cost, doubtless, even less than you will be required to pay elsewhere for the ordinary, every-day, quality-lacking sorts.

Beautiful Draperies in a Wide Variety Are Now Buyable at Surprising Savings

This is an opportune time to drape your windows. This week's special selling in this line offers many really extraordinary values. CREPE DE CHINES

This is the last week of our big Spring Clearance —and there are still many fine pieces of furniture, rugs, etc., left for your selection at wonderfully low prices.

If you have hesitated or put off purchasing until the last minute, you will do well to come early this week and avoid disappointment, should the particular items you desire be sold. Please bear in mind that the cuts used in this "ad" only give a slight idea of the real values and cannot begin to do justice to the goods themselves—the latter need to be seen to be appreciated. And remember—there are no "seconds" or undesirable goods of any kind in our stock. You can depend absolutely upon everything you purchase at Pease Bros. being first class and delivered to your home in good order. It will pay you to buy now for future needs.

SOCIETY.

Ninety guests and soft music was a feature of the afternoon's entertainment.

To New York City.

Rainbow Luncheon.

One of the unique affairs of the week was the rainbow luncheon given by Mrs. E. F. Nance at her home, No. 1528 West Fifty-first street, as a farewell for Mrs. L. Fink of Sedalia, Mo., who is leaving for her home in western Africa after having spent the winter in this city. Ultra-oriental roses embellished the room; and the menu place cards and favors were carried out in the rainbow colors. Covers were laid for the guests in honor of Mrs. Louis E. Fink, wife; Mr. J. A. Fultz, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. John W. Monahan of South Pasadena, and the hostess, all the guests being former residents of Sedalia, Mo.

Eastern Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Thayer of Sedalia, Mo., have been granted two weeks in this city before leaving for New York City to remain a year, left for San Francisco Monday to visit friends. They will spend the summer in their cottage at Bar Harbor, Me., and will visit Boston before returning home.

Luncheon and Card Party.

Among the affairs of recent date was a luncheon and five hundred party given by Mr. John J. Curtis, 2127 Franklin avenue, over which peacock feathers and roses of the same hue with maidenhair fern formed a centerpiece for the table, and favors were colorful bouquets of the same flowers and decorated with dried orange blossoms. Mrs. George Marks of Lawrence, Kan., Mrs. George R. Shaw, Mrs. F. R. Winter, Mrs. George L. McDermott, Mrs. A. B. Foreman, Mrs. J. V. Anderson, Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. G. E. Johnson, Mrs. E. T. Hallcock, Mrs. L. Strauss and Mrs. A. B. McKee.

To Town Europe.

Mrs. Minnie L. Haskett, No. 141 South Franklin avenue, Pasadena, and Don L. Haskett have gone to Boston, where they will sail for Italy on the steamer Cretic, which goes to Mediterranean ports. Mrs. Haskett and her son will tour Europe starting from the sunny south.

Dancing Party.

Mrs. Frank Bryson entertained with a surprise dancing party at the Owens Apartments Tuesday evening, the occasion being the birthday of the wife of Carl of Mr. Bryson. The ballroom was radiant with spring flowers, mustard predominating, the graceful sprays of which were arranged in floor vases. An orchestra furnished delightful music for the dancing, and fifty guests were included.

In the North.

Mrs. Martha L. Zander is passing the balance of the school year in the northern part of the State, and she has gone to her daughter, Miss Lucille. They will return by way of Yosemite and will be at home to friends after July 1, at No. 1545 Fourth avenue.

To Lake Wedders.

Wednesday, Mrs. A. A. Tiel will leave for her old home in Cherokee where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Sanford. Later with Mrs. Sanford and family, Mrs. Tiel will tour the New England States in a motor car, returning home in the fall.

Seniors Entertained.

Seniors of the Westlake School for Girls were hostesses Friday evening at a dancing party given in the picturesque log cabin in the Robert Marsh grounds in Westchester. The patronesses were Mrs. March, Mrs. Isaac Milbank, Miss Vance and Miss de Laguna.

Mrs. Leifer Honored.

In honor of Mrs. Harry H. Leifer of San Francisco, who has come to Los Angeles to make her future home, Miss Freda Williams Room of Shreve's place entertained with a luncheon Tuesday. There were plates held for Mrs. Lewis Head of Portland, Mrs. George M. Shelton, Miss Theberge, Mrs. Herbert Howard, Miss Ethel Shedd and others. This was the first of a series of informal affairs planned by the clever hostess.

At Newport.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis Gibbs, who

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN

When a remedy has lived for over thirty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and when such a vast number of women declare they owe their very lives to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

We challenge the world to show any other one remedy for a special class of disease which has attained such an enormous demand and maintained it for so many years as has

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A Woman's Medicine for Woman's Ills.

It is an honest, tried and true remedy, of unquestionable curative value, made from Native Roots and Herbs. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and complies with all conditions of the Pure Food and Drugs Law.

All sick women should note these facts, and placing all possible prejudices aside, should realize the truthfulness of these statements, and when assailed with any of the numerous illnesses peculiar to their sex, should at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

A HANDSOME REWARD WILL BE GIVEN to any person who will prove that any of our testimonial letters constantly being published in the daily newspapers are not genuine and truthful, or that any of these women were paid in any way to give their testimonials or that the letters were published without their permission or that all the original letters did not come to us entirely unsolicited. 25% to 50% Reductions

In Our

Department of Fine Arts

WITH the return of Mr. G. F. Ghisi from his European trip, the arrival of many Art objects purchased abroad has begun.

Room for the proper display of these new pieces in our Department of Fine Arts is required, and it is our object to reduce our present stock to a minimum during the next few days.

Sharp price reductions, varying from 25% to 50% will be made—beginning Monday—on Bronzes, Cut Glass, China, Marbles and various European novelties.

This is an unusual opportunity to purchase unique and distinctive gifts. We invite your attention to them now—before the finest are gone.

A Word to Seekers of Wedding Gifts

For you who may be called upon to express your sentiments to a June Bride—in some wisely chosen token—Feagans and Company have made auspicious preparation.

We have endeavored to gather here gift suggestions of an entirely different and superior character to those you find in the purely commercial stores.

Not in freakish things—but in clever little productions that bear the stamp of smartness and distinction.

We have put ourselves in your place and selected from the foremost marts of this country and Europe just such unusual, exclusive things as you would choose for yourself had you the whole world to choose from. We believe you will say it is the most interesting gathering of really different wedding gift suggestions you ever saw. Certain it is—there is no other such assemblage in Los Angeles.

Rare jewels—splendid watches in pairs to match or single pieces—superior clocks—distinctive silver—travel requirements of leather—the scope for selection is exceedingly diversified—and yet, in all the vast assemblage there is nothing that savors of the commonplace.

Whether you wish to spend $5.00 or $5000.00, we believe you will find here an opportunity for wise selection such as is not available elsewhere.

Cordially welcome always.

SOCIETY.

has been making her home at the Bryces, with her beloved daughter Audrie, left several days ago for a brief sojourn at Newport Beach, where she has a charming summer cottage. Her present stay there is only for a few days while arranging the programme of summer events and permanent alterations.

To Entertain.

One of the interesting events, socially, of the first week of June will be the reception to be given Tuesday, June 5, by Mrs. Fred Seaton and Mrs. Fred Schneiders at the home of the former, No. 244, Occidental boulevard, in honor of Mrs. Edwin Parker Bremer.

Mrs. Bremer, whose home is in Vancouver, B. C., passes her winters in Los Angeles, which was her former home.

Engagement Announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bush of No. 2452 Sixth street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lillian Ruth, to Michael J. Cheneau. The wedding will take place in the Principals' Club, was toastmaster.

Cupid Party.

Members of the Emanon Club entertained Friday evening with a cupid party at the Goldberg-Hickey assembly rooms. The patrons were Mrs. H. L. Va. L. Foerster, Mrs. W. D. Neal, Mrs. J. E. Foerster, Mrs. F. H. Colby, Mrs. A. B. Rogers and Mrs. B. F. Kierisel.

Fashionable Wedding.

Harold Mann and Miss Arabella Morrow will be married on June 4 in the Keystone Apartments on Hyde street, San Francisco. Miss Morrow is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Albert Morrow, of the Keystone Apartments. Mrs. is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Mann of the Hotel Monroe at Sacramento and Van Ness avenue. The wedding and the reception which will follow will be held in the Keystone ballroom. A large number of the younger society set from this city will be present.

Recent Wedding.

A very pretty home wedding took place last Tuesday noon, when Miss Jessie Louise Wilson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Wilson of No. 1382 La Palmas avenue, was married to Mr. George H. Kress of London.

Complimentary to Miss Jessie MacCormick, Mrs. Jessie, Mrs. Sidney Holman and Miss Anna Cronkhite entertained with a kitchen shower and card party.

The table decorations were in yellow and white, with sprays of asparagus plumosa and tulips.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wighmann entertained with a delightful dinner on Sunday evening. Yellow roses from the home garden made a lovely decoration.

Seated at the table with Mr. and Mrs. Wighmann were Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Willett, Mr. and Mrs. N. Shawdon, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. McCrory, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bush, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Lewis.

Coming Events.

Mrs. Frank Hicks and Mrs. O. W. Childs will entertain with a large afternoon reception at the Los Angeles Country Club on Saturday, June 7.

Five hundred invitations will be issued, it is probable to be one of the largest events of the season.

Another affair that is causing a flutter amongst the debutantes and jeunes filles is the dance to be given at the same club on the evening of June 15. The house will be about a hundred and twenty feet long.

Previous efforts of this society have shown count for anything invitations will be anxiously awaited and promptly accepted.

Mr. J. G. Jones has also reserved the Los Angeles Country Club for a far ahead as July 5. Details of this affair are not yet completed, but there are to be about a hundred guests with cards as the principle raison d'être.

Saturday, May 21, is the date of the club cabaret dinner-dance at the Los Angeles Country Club, and reservations are already being made for parties.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Innes, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Schetter, Dr. and Mrs. George Cuthran, and possibly President and Mrs. Joseph Bartlett will be among the many hosts of the occasion.

Smart Luncheon.

As this little luncheon took place at the Los Angeles Country Club on Thursday, given by Miss Sanford of Boston, Mass., who is on a lengthy visit here and has given several charming reciprocity entertainments.

The scheme of decoration was particularly pink sweet peas and spray filling being arranged to unique advantage.

Bridal-debut Honored.

Mrs. Godfrey Edwards of Eagle Rock recently entertained Miss Marie McDonald, who was married later in the month to Mr. Bourne, and a party of friends, with a luncheon at the Jonathan Club. Pink sweet peas and gold-monogrammed cards marked over.

It is applied for a few moments with the comb, it stays the entire evening from tip to root. It produces any shade desired, from a beautiful, rich brown, to almost black.

How to Brown Hair

Without Detection

Mrs. Potter's Walnut-Tint Hair Stain Can Be Applied in a Few Minutes Every Month.

There is a way of staining gray, faded or bleached hair any shade desired, from a beautiful rich brown to almost black, so that it is impossible to detect that the hair has even experts to detect that the hair has been treated in any way.

This preparation has the tremendous advantage of only dyes or containing no sulphur, lead, or other chemicals which invariably cause hair-falling. It has no odor, no oil, no sediment and no grease, and does not rub off on the clothing. It makes the hair grow out fluffy and luxuriant.

A liberal amount as a laboratory trial package of this Walnut-Tint Hair Stain, together with a comblet on hair, is sent to Mrs. Potter's, 1740 Grotto Ridge, Cincinnati, Ohio, in plain, sealed, wrapped, if you will send 25 cents in stamps or coin, and if it is desired to continue, a few more packages may be obtained at drug or department stores for $1 a package.

It is applied for a few moments with the comb, it stays the entire evening from tip to root. It produces any shade desired, from a beautiful, rich brown, to almost black.

One bottle of this Walnut-Tint Hair Stain can last a year. Advertisement.

Corset Novelty Values!—Initial Stationery at 50c

Bullock's
Broadway at Seventh

The free classes in Art Needle Work on the fourth floor are already seriously considering Christmas gift work.

Here is an offering that is worth a special trip to take advantage of—extraordinary as can be—for in each box there are 24 sheets of written paper, 26 correspondence cards and 40 envelopes to match—the entire lot for 50c.

Each card and sheet of paper finely die stamped in gold with names, narrow initials, letter paper and pointed day envelopes. Don't miss securing a box, Monday—50c.

You will have no trouble in finding the right Corset before you buy it. The new silks are now being concentrated by women in the corset trade. One woman has been known to study the art of the corset before she buys it. Another woman, should you be interested in the Athena fabric, can find it at the store. Corsets are made to fit every woman's figure and come in all sizes—extraordinary at the Angelus Room.
